Insurgent Planes Rain Death On Basques

NEW DRIVE LAUNCHED IN BILBAO AREA

HENDAYE, French-Spanish Frontier, June 12.—(UP)—Sixty insurgent bombing planes rained death into the pine woods between Derio and Zamudio, northeast of Bilbao today, creating a wall of flame as the Nationalists made their first break through the outer ring of the El Gallo, or "iron ring" of the Basque capital's defenses.

Defenders Routed Incendiary bombs fired the woods for a depth of three miles behind the El Gallo fortifications, routing the defenders in that particular sector. At the same time, other insurgent forces battered at the defending lines farther southeast and south of Bilbao in a major offensive.

The air raids were devastating, with insurgent bombs and machine guns mowing down troops and civilians alike behind the Basque lines. The Basque morning broadcast charged that the nationalists bombed crowds of civilians seeking refuge in the Terio cemetery from the fighting planes which dotted the sky, killing scores of women and children and ripping open tombs.

Claim Sanitarium Bombed The broadcast accused the nationalists of bombing the children's bone disease sanitarium at Gorritz, in the outskirts of Bilbao. Three hundred child patients and non-patient child refugees were evacuated yesterday to Bayonne, France, but at least 200 remained. The fate of Bilbao apparently was precarious as the insurgents, they claimed broke through the defenses in one sector.

President Jose Antonio de Aguirre of the Basque republic rushed 20,000 reserves to the spot, it was reported, and took charge personally of the loyalist defense. Village Captured A nationalist radio communique flashed from general headquarters at Vitoria said that nationalist storm troops had captured the village of San Martin de Pica, in the Pica sector northeast of Bilbao and thereby made their first break through the El Gallo line which was Bilbao's last hope for safety.

DANCER WEDS

EX-STAR TELLS OF SUICIDE TRY

LOS ANGELES, June 12.—Mary Miles Minter, star of the silent films, in a statement today regarding the latest investigation of the William Desmond Taylor murder, flatly contradicted her mother's statement that Miss Minter's suicide attempt several years ago was a joke. "It was a very tragic and serious affair," the former star said.

Brands Story False At the same time Miss Minter branded as false the story of the family's former chauffeur, Chauncey Eaton, that he hid five .38 caliber cartridges in the basement of her mother's former home in swanky Fremont place. For the first time the screen favorite of silent pictures, who has said that "Taylor was the only man I ever loved," revealed the details of her suicide attempt prior to the screen director's mysterious murder 15 years ago. She said: "It was not a joke, as mother tried to make out in newspaper interviews. It was a very tragic and serious affair."

Locked Self In Room "I didn't really want to live and I was trying to commit suicide after one of our numerous stormy quarrels. I locked myself in my room after I had rummaged in mother's room and found the little pearl-handled gun. It had been given my mother previously by Harry Harris, of Santa Barbara. Behind the locked door of my bedroom I attempted to take off the safety catch and had trouble with it. They were pounding on my bedroom door, trying to get in, when the gun went off. I don't know where the bullet went, but it probably was in the wall of my closet, as mother said."

RELIEF BILL TAX STRIKE AMENDMENT IS SEEN BY SUPERVISORS

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(UP)—The senate appropriations committee, by 13 to 10 vote, today approved a modified form of the Byrnes amendment to the $1,500,000,000 relief appropriation bill which would provide that local sponsors of relief projects must contribute 40 per cent of the cost of new projects after September 30.

Modifications of the original proposal of Sen. James F. Byrnes, D., S. C., as approved by the subcommittee which considered the measure, included the delay in effectiveness of the clause until September 30 and insertion of the provision that it shall apply only to new projects. The action came after WPA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins had spent two and a quarter hours seeking to convince the committee that it should reject the amendment and give the administration a free hand in spending the relief fund.

Final committee action on the bill was delayed until Monday. Committee members voting in favor of the 40 per cent clause included: Adams, D., Colo., McCarran, D., Nev., Burke, D., Neb., Steiwer, R., Ore.

Voters against the proposal included: Hayden, D., Ariz., O'Mahoney, D., Wyo., McAdoo, D., Cal., Hitchcock, D., S. D., and Nye, R., N. D. In addition, the committee heard down several proposals to modify the Byrnes amendment to provide that local sponsors of projects should contribute percentages of the total cost ranging from 18 to 25 per cent.

PIONEER RESIDENT CALLED BY DEATH

AUGUST L. MELCHERT, 69, pioneer resident of Santa Ana, died shortly before 11 a. m. today at his home, 335 West Seventeenth street. A native of Los Angeles, he had lived in Santa Ana 59 years, coming here in 1878 when a boy of 10. He had been a metal worker, retiring about ten years ago.

Announcement of funeral arrangements will be made later by Brown and Wagner, morticians. Melchert leaves a son, Jack G. Melchert, of Santa Ana; two daughters, Mrs. Anita Marino, of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Dorothy Marlowe, of Berkeley, and two brothers, William C. Melchert and Fred L. Melchert, both of Santa Ana.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 12.—(UP)—Prediction of a tax strike in various sections of California if it becomes necessary to increase the levy on property to provide additional funds for relief purposes was voiced freely at a meeting of the State Supervisors' association here.

After criticizing Gov. Frank F. Merriam's action in vetoing the so-called "supervisors' relief bill" passed by the last legislature, the delegates devoted most of the session to discussion of the dire consequences they felt would follow the present "loose definition" of county and state responsibility in the care of indigents. C. E. Grier, San Bernardino, president of the association, declared conditions in 1938 would be "more chaotic than they were in 1931."

A resolution reprimanding the governor for killing the relief proposal to place full responsibility on the state relief administration for care of "unemployed employables" was defeated after opponents pointed out the chief executive under the present setup holds the purse strings and it was up to him to formulate a definite policy in providing for indigents. The resolution, however, was ordered submitted to the 58 county boards of supervisors for consideration.

Concluding their discussion the supervisors agreed no relief program could be evolved in the counties until after the state program has been revealed.

FLOOD CONTROL BILL EXPLAINED

The flood control bill mentioned in yesterday's press dispatches from Washington as providing appropriations for various flood control projects in Southern California, has nothing to do with the omnibus flood control bill which is expected to provide for the Orange county flood control project, according to local officials.

No Mention of Project That explains why the bill made no mention of an appropriation for the Orange county project, it was said. The bill reported favorably yesterday by a house committee is a different measure, dealing with definite allocations to definite projects. Money for the Orange county $15,248,000 project is expected to come from the omnibus flood control bill, which will appropriate a lump sum for flood control operations of the army engineers, with no definite allocations to any project, it is said.

Up To Engineers "It has been my understanding all along, from the army engineers," said Chairman Willard Smith, of the county board of supervisors, "that the omnibus bill, which will include the Orange county money, will leave the matter of allocating and applying the fund appropriated entirely to the discretion of the army engineers. The bill itself doesn't segregate appropriations or projects. As I understand it, the money will be spent on projects which are ready for the army engineers to work on."

FARM BUREAU TO AID BOND PROJECT

Following the close of the farm bureau water committee meeting this morning, E. E. Campbell, of Orange, chairman, announced that the organization would support the coming water bond election. The extent of the farm bureau support of the bond election will depend primarily on the plans that will be formulated by the campaign committee, it was stated. This limits the activity of the farm bureau's action on the water bond issue, Roland D. Flaherty, executive secretary of the organization explained, as it rests largely with the supervisors' committee to map out the program to be followed.

Aimee Semple McPherson, pastor and founder of Angelus Temple and the Four Square Gospel church, who will be in Santa Ana June 25 for services marking the 14th anniversary of the Four Square church in Santa Ana.

TEMPLE HEAD HERE JUNE 25

Aimee Semple McPherson, pastor-founder of Angelus temple and famed evangelist, will be in Santa Ana June 25 for the opening of the three-day anniversary service marking the 14th anniversary of the Four Square Gospel church in Santa Ana.

The Rev. W. C. Parham, pastor of the church in Santa Ana, announced today that the famous evangelist and head of the Four Square church would conduct services on the first night of the anniversary service.

Evening Speaker

The Rev. Mr. Parham said that Mrs. McPherson would be the speaker at the evening service on the opening day and that a special program of music has been arranged for the evening.

During the entire three days, he said, special services will be held with outstanding personages in the Four Square church directing the meetings. On the day after Mrs. McPherson's appearance here the Rev. D. S. Meyers, former pastor of the Santa Ana Four Square church, who is now located in Pomona, will be in charge of the evening service. At 2:30 p. m. Dr. Claude V. Phillos, editor of the Four Square publication, "The Crusader," will be the speaker.

"Mirandy" To Preach The Rev. Mr. Parham, who has just returned from Ventura, where he has been conducting services for several weeks, announced today that "Mirandy," formerly a member of the KMTB radio Bill Billies, will conduct evening services at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow at the local church. "Mirandy," a member of the Country Church of Hollywood, and associate of the Rev. William Hogg, known to radio listeners as Josiah Hopkins, will sing and preach during the evening service.

At the morning service tomorrow, scheduled for 11 a. m., the Rev. Mr. Parham will deliver the sermon on the topic "Divine Healing." At the close of the service he will pray for the sick. Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. Monday for Miss Addie Sheets, 74, pioneer resident of Tustin, who died yesterday at her home. Services will be held at Smith and Tutill's chapel, with the Rev. M. L. Pearson, of Orange, officiating. Interment will be in Santa Ana cemetery.

A resident of California for the past 68 years, Miss Sheets had lived at Tustin for the past 62 years. She is survived by her brothers, Lewis F. Sheets, of Tustin, and Arthur K. Sheets, of Berkeley, and one sister, Mrs. Jessie S. Leiby, also of Tustin.

PLAN MASS MEETING OF UNION MEN

DETROIT, June 12.—(UP)—Gov. Frank Murphy announced today that a battalion of Michigan national guardsmen and a detail of state police would be sent to Monroe Sunday "to safeguard the peace" and "guarantee the right of free speech and free assembly" to a union mass meeting near the city limits.

Murphy To Attend Murphy himself will attend the meeting, to be held three miles north of the city limits, but will not speak.

"We are working this out in a common sense way to safeguard both the peace and security of Monroe and its citizens and at the same time to guarantee the rights of free speech and free assembly to union members," the governor said.

"Martial law," the governor emphasized, "has not been, and won't be declared."

He said that Col. John S. Berney, adjutant general of the Michigan national guard, and Oscar G. Olander, state police commissioner, would be in charge of the law enforcing agencies at the meeting.

To be held in a state park. "Guarantees to me by Homer Martin of the United Automobile Workers' union and by Mayor Daniel A. Nagas of Monroe made it evident to me that there will be peace," Murphy added.

8 SOVIET ARMY OFFICERS SHOT

MOSCOW, June 12.—The bullet ridden bodies of eight high army officers were believed to be in a Moscow prison morgue today, awaiting dishonored burial, in evidence of the swift, merciless punishment that Russia metes to traitors. Convicted of Espionage The eight men, a marshal and seven generals—the marshal, Mikhail Tukhachevsky, regarded as Russia's most brilliant soldier—were convicted on their own confessions of espionage in behalf of a foreign country unfriendly to the Soviet union.

The military collegium of the supreme court ordered that they be stripped of all military titles and honors and then shot summarily, without right of appeal of possibility of clemency, by the secret police.

The trial was secret and the government was silent. But Pravda, official newspaper organ of the communist party, said in its editorial: "The artfulness of the agents of Fascist intelligence services in our country has not helped and will not help them—we have disclosed plans of a certain foreign government, and any attempt by it to attack the Soviet union will be the beginning of the end of Goebbels and his like."

Germany Suspected Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels is the Nazi minister of propaganda, and the inference seemed inescapable that Pravda was disclosing that

GULDAHL WINNER OF NATIONAL OPEN

BIRMINGHAM, Mich., June 12.—(UP)—Ralph Guldahl, of Chicago, today won the National Open golf championship when he blazed around the Oakland Hills course to defeat a field of hard playing golfers. Guldahl set an all time record for the event when he posted a 281 score for the 72 holes.

RUSSIAN WOMAN REVEALED AS KIDNAP VICTIM BENEFICIARY

STONY BROOK, N. Y., June 12.—(UP)—The existence of reciprocal wills in which Mrs. Alice McDonnell Parsons and her Russian housekeeper named each other beneficiaries was disclosed today as investigators voiced the fear the society woman had been slain by kidnapers.

The documents disposing of the wills which was parked in the driveway near where the strangers had stopped their car.

Anna Krupyanova in the event of death were signed in April, 1937, Assistant District Attorney Harry C. Brenner of Suffolk county said. Some investigators cited the ransom note demanding $25,000 within 24 hours—which expired at noon Thursday—in support of their belief that Mrs. Parsons had been slain. Others said they were not entirely satisfied that the case was an open and shut kidnaping. These latter would not discuss their theories.

Mrs. Krupyanova told police that Mrs. Parsons left in an automobile with a man and woman, presumably to show some property which she had offered for sale in nearby Huntington. She did not return, and several hours later a crudely penciled ransom note demanding $25,000 was found in the Parsons car.

WARSHIP REMAINS ON S. F. MUD FLAT

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—(UP)—The U. S. battle ship Tennessee remained aground on a mud flat in San Francisco bay today. Fourteen boats were tugging to dislodge her.

There was no immediate danger and the 1400 sailors aboard appeared to be enjoying the diversion. The Tennessee was standing upright in 25 feet of water but her bottom was caught firmly in the mud, a mile and a half south of the Alameda pier.

Failing to free their ship by its own power, the Tennessee's officers called for aid. The Red Stack line sent all its eight tugs, the navy sent two tugs, the coast guard three cutters and the army sent the tug Slocum.

The elections will be held to determine whether the unlicensed personnel desires to be represented in collective bargaining by the National Maritime union, sponsored by the Committee for Industrial Organization, or by the International Seamen's union, an American Federation of Labor affiliate.

MYSTERY CLOUDS DISCOVERY OF WOMAN'S BODY IN OCEAN

Was she murdered? Is she a suicide victim? Did she jump or fall from a passing ocean liner? Was she a wealthy woman, tired of the humdrum life of the pampered rich? Those are questions which coroners and further investigation. Coroner Abbey said the woman is of stocky build, five feet four inches tall, weighing about 165, having blue eyes. She had no teeth. She was wearing a black dress, black three-quarter length coat, yellow cloth gloves, brown stockings, pink slip, shoes having a strap, blue scarf with designs and silver clasp breast pin. No marks of violence were found on the body. A state-wide effort is being made to identify the body, teletype messages being broadcast over county police radio systems.

YOUTH CONFESSES KIDNAPING HOAX

SALT LAKE CITY, June 12.—(UP)—A youth who wanted to impress his girl friend and win her admiration, was said by police today to have perpetrated a weird kidnaping hoax. Marvin C. Rottiger, of Santa Monica, Calif., an $18 a week grocery clerk and a former chauffeur for a wealthy family, according to police, first said he had been kidnaped, robbed, and fed table scraps for three days while he was held captive. He said gangsters had forced their way into his father's jewelry business in New York and had killed his mother and brothers and sisters.

GERMANY SENDING ITALY AMMUNITION

INNBRUCK, Austria, June 12.—(UP)—Ammunition is passing from Germany to Italy, presumably for use in the insurgent campaign in Spain, it was reported today by unofficial sources, including the station master at Innsbruck, who supposedly is in a position to know what freight is carried by trains passing through here. The station master said that on Wednesday night, six cars of ammunition attached to an otherwise empty German freight train had cleared this station for the Italian border. He said further that the contents of the six cars had been described to him "officially" as ammunition from Germany. The ammunition trains were said to be passing nightly through Innsbruck to the Brenner pass into Italy, including a shipment on June 10 of 30 cars and on June 11 of 30 cars.

fic will be kept outside of the city of Monroe.

He added that Martin, president of the auto union, had assured him he would discourage influx of union members from Ohio and Indiana to the mass meeting any "try/keep the meeting a purely Michigan matter."

Martin, who announced the mass meeting Friday, had urged that it be a tri-state gathering with U.A.W. members from the neighboring states joining the Michigan delegation in Monroe, Martin will speak at Muncie, Ind., tonight.

Asks Co-Operation

"We will make certain there will be no invasion of Monroe," the governor said. "I hope all citizens will co-operate with us by keeping away from the town. The state park where the meeting will be held is located so it will not be necessary to pass through Monroe to reach it."

He added that national guardsmen were requested by union President Martin as well as Monroe city officials.

BETHLEHEM WORKERS CALLED OUT BY UNION

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 12.—(UP)—A union-sponsored strike began today in the big Cambria plant of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, largest independent producer in the country, but hundreds of the factory's 15,000 employees continued at work and the company claimed operations were maintained "according to schedule."

The Steel Workers' Organizing committee called the walkout to force Bethlehem to sign a union contract.

After a survey of the picket zones along the eight-mile-long plant, Mayor Daniel L. Shields said that "this strike looks ineffective." Union officials announced there are thousands of men out and there are some in.

because they were not .38 caliber bullets."

Eaton recently led investigators to the basement of the Fremont place residence and from a secret hiding place in the rafters took one .38 caliber cartridge covered with green mould and cobwebs. Following this find the investigators started fluoroscope experiments on the walls of the house to locate, if possible, the bullet which Miss Minter said was fired the day she made up her mind to end her life.

Says Story Improbable

The ex-screen star then branded as "highly improbable" the story of a taxi driver who came forward recently with the statement that on the night of the Taylor murder he drove her and Carl Stockdale, veteran Hollywood actor, from the Ambassador hotel to her home.

Mrs. Charlotte Shelby, her mother, who was questioned by a grand jury last month about a gun she had about the time of the Taylor killing, announced today that she had a theory of her own. "I believe Mr. Taylor was slain by someone who has never been under investigation—that his death resulted from the fact that he was

King Of All Nations Takes Over Reins Of Government As He Predicted Year Ago

By PAUL VISSMAN

As he predicted more than a year ago from his summer palace in a barn at Los Alamitos, His Holy Highness Hephzibah, King of all the nations, yesterday took over the State government.

Believe it or not the government peacefully surrendered. In fact, Secretary of State Jordan laughed.

Hephzibah, well-known in Santa Ana and Orange county where he stayed several months last year, chummed his way to Sacramento, arriving yesterday. Unable to secure an audience with Gov. Frank F. Merriam, Hephzibah called on Secretary of State Jordan and informed him that he had just seized the state government.

Asks, "So What?"

According to an unfounded rumor Secretary of State Jordan was so impressed that all he could say was, "So what?"

Immediately after taking over the state government Hephzibah spotted the capital post office and that reminded him of something else.

"That reminds me," he is reported to have said, "I forgot to write to Jim Farley telling him that I have taken over the postal system."

Some one else is reported to have asked "So what?"

Last year Hephzibah arrived in Santa Ana and immediately visited the board of supervisors who were in session at the time and, after a long discourse on cabbages and kings—or something—informed the board that he was taking over the county government and expected to extend his dominion to include the state and government.

He Tells 'Em

A smart guy was Hephzibah so he visited The Register and informed staff members that he soon would be ruler of the nation. Right there is where things seemed to go haywire. Someone in the office, probably a reporter, placed his tongue behind his teeth and gave tongue to Hephzibah.

His Honored Highness Hephzibah what is known as "The razzberry" or the "Bronx cheer" and anyone knows how an emperor, or even a potential emperor would feel after receiving the "Bronx cheer," especially from a newspaper reporter.

Hephzibah felt insulted and said so. In fact he felt so insulted that, before departing he placed a curse on The Register and promised members of the staff that—before another year had rolled around the building would come tumbling down around their ears and that

CALLING all DOGS

By Albert Payson Terhune

FIELD TRIALS

One of the big advantages in dog progress is the ever-growing interest in Field Trials. The wise encouragement given by the American Kennel club has done much to boost these trials. There is more and more public excitement over them. Also for "obedience tests."

Field trials and obedience tests give a dog a chance to show his brain-power and his endurance. He is not merely something to look at. The trials and the tests bring out grand qualities.

At bench shows, all a dog has to do is to look at his best and to go through simple paces and poses. Brain is not required, nor endurance. Not that I am belittling bench shows. They are splendid exhibitions. They have done great things for all pure canine breeds. I'm strong for them.

But the trials and tests do infinitely more to cultivate a dog's best traits of mind and heart and body. By the way, a few years ago, in an organized recon hunt in the Southwest, the capital cash prize was won by a farm boy's small, untrained mongrel hound!

BARGAIN HOME SITES LISTED

Opening Belmont Shores near Long Beach, one of the most attractive subdivisions along the California coast, the capital company is making it possible for people interested in a pleasant place to live to secure lots for modest down payments and easy terms, according to L. J. Burrud, director of subdivision sales for the company.

Burrud said that the company is offering bay-shore lots and sites overlooking the marine concourse at terms that are unusually attractive. Scores of attractive beach cottages and year-round residences are under construction in the subdivision at present. These homes are located on paved streets and served with gas, water, electricity and sewers. In addition to all the utilities, excellent transportation and a fine school system is available.

Adjacent to the ocean and on beautiful Alamitos bay, these attractive home places offer many advantages in sports and amusements, Burrud said. A large shopping center appeals particularly to the women. Burrud said that officials of the Capital company are of the opinion that property now offered for sale in the project will soon be absorbed.

FAMILY PLANS FETE TO HONOR WOMAN AT 90

Mrs. Julia Ett Smith will celebrate her 90th birthday anniversary at a family gathering in Anaheim park tomorrow, although today is her birthday.

Mrs. Smith was born in Erie, Pa., June 12, 1847, first coming to California in 1915 and returning for frequent visits since that time. She came here last in October of last year from Kinsley, Kans., when her son, C. A. Smith of this city, and daughter, Mrs. L. E. Weitenman of Anaheim made the trip east, the three of them returning by auto. Since that time she has been making her home with another daughter, Mrs. C. N. Mosher, 833 North Broadway.

She has received many cards and other remembrances from her eastern friends and relatives, among them a card from a nephew, Henry Hollis of Corry, Pa., who will observe his 75th birthday anniversary today.

Mrs. Smith is fond of reading, does fancy work and pieces many quilts. She has three daughters, Mrs. L. E. Weitenman of Anaheim, her home; Mrs. Charles Stout and Mrs. L. E. Deitenman of Anaheim; and five sons, C. A. Smith, C. E. Smith of this city; C. J. Smith of Wichita, Kans.; and Earl H. Smith and Harry Smith of Kinsley, Kan., the latter of whom will be unable to attend the celebration. Her son, Earl and his three daughters, Helen, Keriba and Eula of Kinsley, Kan., have arrived for the observance.

CURIOUSLY, Christ actually was born several years B. C., "before the birth of Christ." This paradox is the result of an error made in connecting the birth of Christ with the disputed date of a victory of Emperor Augustus.

Townsend Topics

By W. F. Rockwell

(Editor's Note: The comment and opinions of W. F. Rockwell, as appearing in this column are not necessarily those of The Register.)

When District Manager Walsh speaks at a Townsend club meeting his listeners are not thinking of anything else but what he is talking about. He ties the minds of his hearers tight to his thoughts and clinches his message with masterful delivery. At club number eleven last night he made an unusually impressive address. When through, the crowd did not rush out in a hurry to get home, but remained to visit with each other in a very happy mood. A good many visitors from other clubs were present.

Among the many things Mr. Walsh said was when he told of being asked by a member of a club in another town, "In your visits to all the clubs in the entire nineteenth congressional district, who do you think is the best president, and who is the best secretary and who is the best treasurer?" He said, "that is a hard question to answer, but among the outstanding officers, Grant Henderson is one of the best. The secretary of club number eleven, Mrs. Best, is unusually efficient in every way. The treasurer report showed that this office was handled by a very capable official."

Mrs. Best told of being called on the telephone a few days ago by a man who said he was in Santa Ana to organize a movement that has been started in Utah, and was going to operate in every state, and wanted to meet with the officers of all clubs to present their new plan of paying $200 per month to the old people. When Mrs. Best asked how the money was to be raised, he said "Oh, it will be raised, you don't need to worry about that." Well, this telephone talk by this strange stranger did not "click" with Mrs. Best, so "that was that." Mrs. Best was elected to be the delegate and Mr. Grant Henderson the alternate delegate to the Nineteenth Congressional Board meeting to be held at 3554 Eighth street, in Riverside, on Saturday, June 26th, 1:30 p.m.

JIMMIE FIDLER IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, June 12.—Today I met a young girl who came here from the Middle West about a year ago and won a trial contract with a major studio. She's going home now, complete washout from Hollywood's point of view. But not from her own. She thinks it has been one of the best years of her life. And instead of being downhearted, the girl is actually grateful to Hollywood.

"They tried hard to make an actress of me," she said, "and I'm sorry they lost on their investment." Then she listed a number of things Hollywood has done for her, proving that even though she will never be a famous star, the studios gave her more than a square deal. Dramatic coaches have taught her to speak correctly, to walk gracefully and to sit and stand with good posture. The finest designers in the world have taught her how to choose and wear clothes. Makeup experts have given her the secrets of their art and she has learned how to dress her hair. Singing lessons, dancing lessons, the studio training school and her practice before the camera have given her poise and self-assurance.

"I wouldn't trade the practical knowledge I've gained for a college diploma," she told me. Somehow I had never thought of it just that way. Perhaps because I've heard so many girls bewail their luck and hush out against Hollywood. The next time some struggling extra asks my advice, I'm going to tell about this girl who failed...the washout who was grateful to Hollywood.

The other day I heard an amusing anecdote about Constance Bennett, who has established some sort of record for never being on time for an appointment. A certain magazine writer went to her home for luncheon and was asked to wait for Connie in the library. "Madame is still asleep," explained the maid. The writer waited for nearly an hour. Then he dashed off a very caustic note, propped it up on the library desk and stalked from the house. Later that afternoon, Con-

THREE PERSONS ARE INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Three persons were slightly injured in a collision of automobiles at First street and Harbor boulevard at 7 p. m. yesterday and two others were injured in an accident at Orange yesterday afternoon.

At the First and Harbor intersection, Oliver Brodgon, 1312 Crawford street, South Pasadena, suffered cuts and bruises about the head, and Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Lenert, 808 South Van Ness, Santa Ana, bruises. They were taken to St. Joseph hospital for treatment.

In Orange, J. B. Brackett, 707 West Chapman, Orange, suffered rib fractures and Mrs. Della Brackett, 33, his wife, head injuries and body bruises. They are being treated at county hospital.

Margaret Breu, 10, whose mother, Mrs. Anna Breu, died Tuesday from injuries received in a traffic accident near the Arches on Coast highway last Sunday, also was a victim. Long beach authorities reported John Breu, railway superintendent of Antilla, Cuba, and president of the Rotary club there, barely won an air race with death. Landing at Glendale, Breu was met by a Long Beach Rotarian and rushed to his daughter's bedside. She died a few moments later.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pearson, service station owners at First and Harbor, who passed their American Red Cross first aid tests recently, gave first aid to Brodgon and Mr. and Mrs. Lenert. Mrs. Laura R. Warren, executive secretary of the Orange County Council of American Red Cross, reported today. Santa Ana police also gave first aid. The Pearson service station recently was equipped with first aid materials. Several stations now operate in the county.

SOIL DISCUSSED BY FARM GROUP

Orange County's Agriculture Conservation association outlined policies that would be followed next year at a meeting in the Farm Bureau hall last night.

Eighteen of the 34 committee-men from the six respective sections of the county were present and took an active part in the discussion.

J. W. Burnett, secretary of the group, gave a summary of the 1936 program as it affected the county, while W. M. Cory, Agricultural Extension service agent, outlined the practices, methods and administration of the program as it was followed this year.

M. J. Wolfe, assistant farm advisor, discussed questions submitted from experiences of the farmers during the past year. Recommendations were made for the 1938 program.

Walter Pollard, vice-chairman of the group, presided in the absence of John Murdy, chairman.

This was the second year that the program has been carried out. This is a long time program and the steps that are now being taken are of a permanent nature.

APOSTOLI OUTPOINTS DALE SPARR IN S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—Fred Apostoli of San Francisco, challenger for Freddie Steele's world middleweight title, won a 10-round decision here last night over Dale Sparr, 157, of San Diego. Apostoli was credited with seven rounds, while Sparr took two, and the remaining round was even.

Stormy Regime Predicted For Lions Under Harwood

By TED STEPHENSON

Santa Ana Lions today are looking forward to a stormy administration under the leadership of Postmaster Frank Harwood, installed Thursday night as the club's new president.

Reason for the prediction that a stormy 12 months is in the offing is seen in the fact that Harwood, in accepting his new office, threatened to clamp down, turn the screws and otherwise embarrass all Lions affiliated with the Grand Old Party. In typical democratic fashion, Harwood said that in the future all Republicans in the club could consider themselves so much excess baggage.

No Mercy Here
Staunch Republicans Earl Abbey, Frank West, Milburn Harvey, Don Jerome and Immediate Past President Rolla Hays Jr., were warned by Harwood to expect little if any mercy when it comes to fines. In as much as the Bourbons are sadly outnumbered on the club's roster, the afore mentioned Republicans have already laid plans for an anti-administration campaign.

"Be Nasty to Harwood" has been selected as their slogan and theme song for the year. The fact that Harwood is in the driver's seat seems not to bother them at all.

Meaning Republicans
"Don't forget that I'm still selling the stamps in this village, and you Republicans are going to have to lick them—like it or not."

This, in substance, expresses Harwood's attitude toward the affair.

"If you buzzards (meaning Republicans) think you have me scared, just try popping off in meeting some time. I'm holding the whip, and I'm sure going to crack around somebody's ears, and it might as well be a Republican."

4432 RETURNED TO COUNTY JOBS BY LOCAL NRS

Reviewing accomplishments of the National Reemployment Service in Orange county for the past year, Charles Fallert, manager of the Orange county office, revealed today that, since January 1, his office has placed 4432 people on jobs with private industries.

In outlining services of his office for the year to date, Fallert stressed the fact that his office is not a part of the work relief program. "This office," Fallert said, "was established for the purpose of matching jobs and men and was started, originally, for the purpose of taking men off work relief projects and returning them to private industry."

Find Employment
April and May of this year saw the greatest number of men returned to private employment. In April, the service found employment for 1193 people. Last month 1161 people were placed on jobs.

The record for the year, exclusive of April and May is: January, 659 jobs; February, 412 jobs; and March, 716 jobs.

Fallert said that one service that very few people realize is being extended through his office is the interchange of jobs and qualified workers between various branches in this and other states.

Each office, according to Fallert,

Tinsmiths' Strike In Culver City Is Felt Here Friday

A strike of tinsmiths in Culver City, yesterday left a mother and five children penniless and stranded in Santa Ana, according to city police today.

On complaint that a boy and girl were begging from house to house, for something to eat, Officers J. B. Stephenson and Ralph Pantuso investigated. The oldest child of the mother was found to be a 26-year-old man, a tinsmith by trade. The family was en route to San Diego where the tinsmith hoped to find work. Two of the children had been trying to sell paper flowers to obtain money for food, the officers said.

A local tinsmith agreed to help the Culver City tinsmith find work, the officers reported.

PARK EXPERTS SEEK TO DRAFT UNIFORM PLAN

Appointment of a committee to draft an ordinance prescribing a uniform method of park administration, and the discussion of six vital problems that face park groups of every community in Southern California, were the two main features of the second meeting of the Southern California Association of Park Administrators at yesterday afternoon's session in the Green Cat cafe.

With Santa Ana playing the role of host, the group was welcomed at the luncheon session, which preceded a round table discussion by Mayor Fred C. Rowland.

Problems Defined

Gus Allen, local park commissioner, who with Dale Griggs, Santa Ana park superintendent, was responsible for the conclave coming here, were in charge of the discussion. Directly after the luncheon, there were many introductions, and brief remarks were made by each member.

Gilbert Skutt, superintendent of Los Angeles parks, and chairman of the association, named the group that will draft the ordinance. The measure will be specifically designed to go a long way in solving the following problems:

Removal of objectionable trees, such as those that do not conform to sidewalk and street plans; uniform planting, which includes alternate and regular spacing of new trees; specimen trees which are breaking sidewalks and curbs and obstructing sewers.

14 Communities

The problem of weeds and their disposal; planting business streets with ornamental trees; and granting of petitions to change planting of one or two blocks where the balance of the street is planted to a designated tree.

The fourteen communities were represented by: Dale Griggs, Gus Allen, Mayor Fred C. Rowland, Mrs. F. W. Forgy, Ernest Layton, E. M. Hall, O. L. Halsell and J. L. McBride, all of Santa Ana; Mrs. Mabel V. Socha, E. Merrill, J. J. Hassett, R. Roycamp and Gilbert L. Skutt, all of Los Angeles; C. C. Harvey, W. H. Nicholas and C. F. Holderness, of Pasadena; H. E. Eaton, Charlotte Coleman and Ray Haskell, of Culver City; H. R. Holbrook, Montebello; George V. Chapman, Beverly Hills; L. E. Winter, Alhambra; W. C. Macdonald and J. F. Haun, Newport Beach; F. E. Gregory and K. E. Campbell of El Segundo; Otto Bayer and Max Lowe of Long Beach; Glen W. Garwood, South Pasadena; Edwin L. Troeger, Santa Monica, and W. A. Franz, of Inglewood.

The next meeting will be held in Montebello, August 13. H. R. Holbrook will be chairman of the program.

UNIQUE BEAUTY SPOT CREATED

A mass of flaming color has transformed J. Heinecke's place at Tustin into one of Orange county's unique beauty spots.

Flowers rare to Southern California are responsible for the transformation.

"Anyone interested in seeing the flowers may do so on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons and by appointment on other days," Heinecke said as he explained that the rare blossoms attracted hundreds last year.

"It got so bad that we couldn't do our work around here," he added.

The bulbs thrive in the moist, cool climate of England and have been successfully cultivated in Santa Clara and Santa Cruz counties.

Because of the unusual wet winter and the abundance of moisture provided for them by Heinecke, these plants are of unusual beauty this year. He lives at Santa Clara and Tustin avenues.

It is the custom for the choir group to elect officers for the coming year at this event and Mrs. Clyde Hughes was chosen president. Mrs. Rex Parks was named secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. J. R. Kenyon, representing the Aid society which gave the dinner, spoke a few words and Mr. Stuckey responded. Other speakers were the Rev. Arthur T. Hobson, pastor of the church and Mrs. George Swift Harper, director of the choir.

The dinner was climaxed by a regular practice session.

New Budget Is Discussed At H. S. Board Parley

ORANGE, June 12.—An important meeting of the Orange union high school board of education was conducted at the high school last night. The business meeting included the canvassing of the returns of the board election, held June 4, and the tentative adoption of a budget for next year.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
CORAL CRANDALL, heroine, and senior at Elton College.
DAVID ARMYSTRONG, Elton chemistry professor and Coral's husband.
DONNA ALLEN, Coral's sorority roommate.
HOYT MARQUIS, Coral's one-time fiancé.

Yesterday Coral's parents, unaware of her secret marriage, insist that she date Hoyt Marquis. Her mother telephones Hoyt. Desperately, Coral picks up the receiver to talk to him.

CHAPTER IV

CORAL was sitting on the edge of a laboratory chair reading a letter from Hoyt when David entered. She had been back at Elton for three days, yet somehow, the opportunity for telling David that Hoyt was coming for the Spring prom had not yet presented itself. Always she had been too happy to be with him again, too miserly of their moments together, to introduce the subject.

It was cowardly, she knew. David would have to know sooner or later. The longer she put it off, the worse it would be. Yet each time she tried, the words refused to come. As she read Hoyt's letter, apologetic for his behavior after the cocktail party, full of plans for the dance, she was more disturbed than ever. As David shut the door and came toward her, she nervously herself. "I'll tell him now, and get it over," she said to herself, and then prayerfully, "Please don't let him be angry. Make him understand!" David kissed her. "Darling it's harder to get a moment alone with you than to get an exclusive interview with the King of England."

"It's not so easy to see you alone, when it comes right down to cases," Coral laughed. "I've been back three days and how often have I seen you? Once for dinner, once for a 10-minute walk across the campus, two chocolate sodas at the Tea Kettle, and that's all . . . outside of classes, which don't count. Add that up and it comes to about three hours and a half out of the last 72. Any other wife would have begun to ask questions long ago. What have you been doing that's kept you in the lab so much of the time?"

"That's a secret, Coral, for a while . . . even from you. But I'll tell you first of all if everything works out as I'm hoping it will."

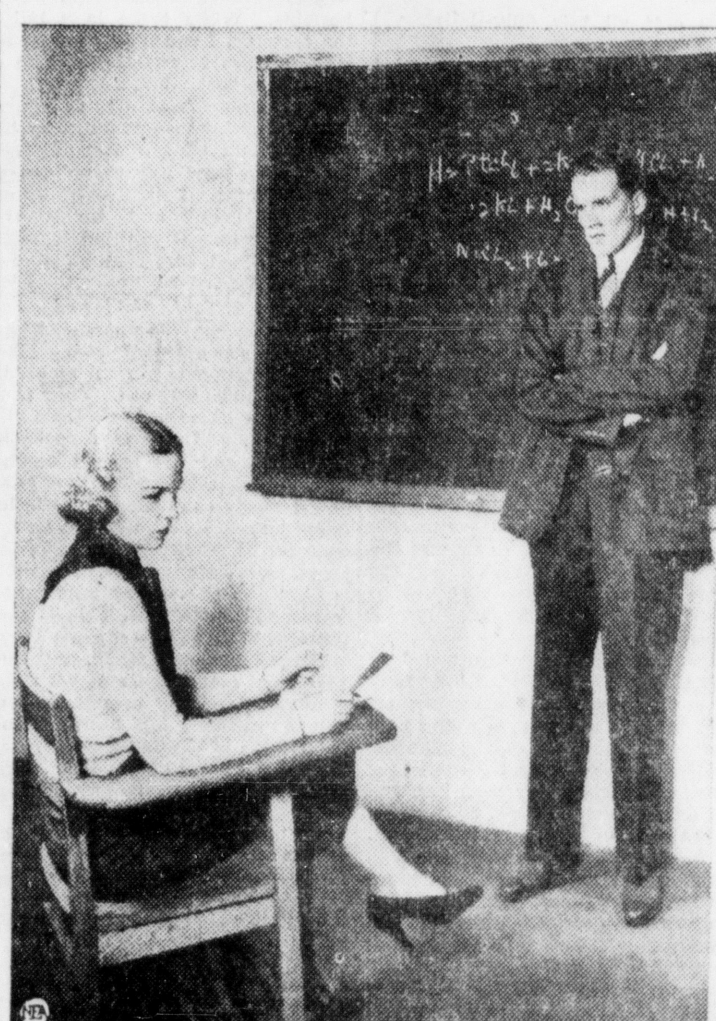

"Oh, David, tell me," Coral's eyes were alight with interest. "Is it a new experiment?"

David chuckled. "Remember what curiosity did to the feline! You'll know all in good time," he finished in mock condescension.

"David, I am so proud of you," Coral said. "I know that some day you're going to be one of the greatest chemists in the world, and I'll work for you and wash the test tubes and light the Bunsen burners, if you promise not to get proud and throw me out!"

DAVID pulled her to him, kissed her hair lightly. "That's one thing you'll never need to worry about, if I ever become famous . . . note the if . . . you can help me and I'll wash your dishes. Far enough?" The bantering note forsook his voice. "Was there bad news in the letter you were reading when I came in? You looked a bit worried."

"David, there are a couple of things I want to talk over with you," Coral answered slowly.

David was stunned. "Asked Hoyt Marquis to the Prom! I thought you were going with me."

"Don't look so serious, sweet! Nothing is bad enough to make you look like that? What's up? Tell me."

"Well, first of all, I'm worried about Donna. When I came in at noon she was almost hysterical about a letter from her father. You know, she's had all kinds of trouble with the dean, and to cap the climax, Professor Caine caught her cheating in her last history test. Her father heard about it, and threatens to take her out of school and put her to work in his office if she doesn't do better. She was scared sick!"

David snorted. "I wouldn't worry about that spoiled brat. She can take care of herself, all right. It wouldn't be a bad thing for all concerned if her father did what he threatens. A little hard office work might knock some of the nonsense out of her head."

Coral sighed. "I know, David, but she's always had her own way. It's not really her fault that she's spoiled. I can't help worrying about her, difficult as she is." And Coral thought to herself, "Even you don't know how difficult!" She had not yet told David that Donna knew their secret.

"Coral, honey," David said, "it's like you to be so warm-hearted, but I wouldn't worry about Donna. After all, there's really nothing you can do . . . besides . . . you can't tell me that she isn't perfectly able to look out for herself. What was the other thing you had on your mind? You seem mustn't worry any more about Donna, Coral. She's not worth it. Let's get on to question number two." His voice was jocular, but his eyes reflected the serious look which lay in Coral's.

"David, dear, I really don't know how to tell you. I've done a dreadful thing, but, truly, I couldn't help it. The family made me do it, David. You know I didn't want to! The words tumbled from her lips."

David laughed. "What! Let's get this straight, darling. Your family made you do what and I know you didn't want to do what?"

"Invite Hoyt Marquis to the Spring prom." Her words were blunt, her voice unnaturally shrill. David was stunned. "Asked HOYT MARQUIS to the prom! I thought you were going with me."

"David, darling, please understand. I did plan to go with you. I do want to, but my family insisted that I ask him. I couldn't tell them about us, could I? She saw his face harden. "David, don't look at me like that!"

"I was under the impression that you didn't care for this Marquis chap. I see I was wrong." His tone was angry . . . and hurt, terribly hurt.

"I don't care about him, David, you know that." Coral's voice was desperate, her eyes pleaded with him to understand. "I love you!"

"Oh, obviously!" David's words cut across her heart like the lash of a whip.

For minutes, which seemed forever the laboratory was silent. David walked across the room and stood looking out of a window, his back, stiff and uncompromising, to Coral. She leaned against the long, zinc-covered table, her body limp, her eyes brimming with tears. Each waited for the other to speak. At last Coral said, "Won't you even try to understand?"

"It seems to me that I understand you too well," David answered brusquely. "I thought you loved me, that when we had to keep our marriage a secret you would observe the vows of fidelity, even though we hadn't proclaimed them to the world. I had the mistaken idea that you were the kind of girl who wouldn't regret the loss of freedom to pick and choose from between a dozen different men, that you would be satisfied to confine your attentions to her in mock politeness. "I fully realize that I am only your husband, and perhaps have no right to ask favors of you, such as the great one of begging you to hold open one date out of the entire spring season, for me."

CORAL was angry now. "How can you dare to say such things to me?" she cried. "You talk as if I had betrayed you in the eyes of the whole world." He smiled wryly. "Not the whole world, my pet. You're much too clever for that. All that you have betrayed are the most sacred vows a man and woman can make together before their God. Or maybe you don't look at it like that. Apparently not. Your betrayal has been of a promise which, fortunately for you, was known only to us."

"David, you're jealous. You're acting like a little boy. Have you no faith in me? Did you marry me, trusting me as little as this? I care only for you, and you know it. How can you be jealous?"

"I am jealous, childishly if you wish, because I thought you belonged to me."

"But don't you understand? I didn't ask Hoyt here because I wanted to! My parents made me. It was that or tell them we were married!"

David strode from the window and stood facing her. "That's just it. The fact that you preferred to break the promise you made when you married me, preferred to sacrifice our peace and happiness, rather than disobey your parents in such a small matter and cause a half-hour's unpleasantness."

But now Coral was calm, her heart hard and angry, the hurt burning at her soul . . . a fire not red but white. If he had so little trust in her, if he understood her so little, what was the use of further argument? Better to cut free now, before it was too late.

"Are you sick of your bargain, David?" she asked. "Now that you have found me so unworthy of your noble affection, do you regret that you are tied to me?"

David sprang to his feet. "Coral, I love you! Can't you see that? Can't you see I'm crazy with jealousy? I want you . . . always. But if you love me, darling, tell Hoyt Marquis you can't have him here for the dance after all. You can give him some explanation. Please, Coral, it means so much."

"Hoyt has made his plans. Believe me, David, if I could do anything about it, I would. But it's impossible. I can't back down now. I've got to go through with it for my family's sake. You do see, David, don't you?"

He looked at her wearily. "I'm afraid I don't. There's nothing more to say, is there?" He walked toward the door, opened it.

"David!" she cried. But he was gone . . . was it forever? (To Be Continued)

Timely Tips on Outdoor Life

BY JED WELSH

My information department composed of illiterate Indian guides, forest rangers, one drunk sailor, and six boy scouts, gathered behind the fish-house last night and, after comparing notes, prepared the weekly fishing report. Personally, I don't think that they have been out of town for over a week but this is the alleged first-hand information they cooked up.

Trout fishing is getting better, although the West fork of the San Gabriel will be much too high for fishing for at least another week. This is due to the fact that they are letting all of the water out of the upper West fork dam.

This means excellent fishing in the upper West fork when the water recedes because there were a great many trout in the dam, and fish, being nothing like my cousin, so wherever there is water, Bear creek is clear, and is good fishing although the trout are very small.

Deep creek and Big Bear creek are both very worth while fishing. Worms, natural bait and spinners are the best lures. Some good-sized fish are being taken in Deep creek below Squint's ranch. Arrowhead reports fair bait fishing. Arrowhead lake has been good all the past week with seven to nine inch trout taking wet flies very well. The trout are at last beginning to hit a little bit in Big Bear lake, while bass, crappie and blue-gills are striking with positive abandon. For the most action in Southern California fresh water fishing, go to Big Bear and fish in the upper, shallow end of the lake with large wet flies or spinner flies.

Fishing in the San Diego lakes is getting better and better. The bass are now hitting surface lures and large floating bass flies. Crappie and blue-gills are almost too easy to catch, but make great sport on a fly rod.

Not being satisfied with the dizzy report from my piscatorial board of strategy, I am going to personally make a trip through the high Sierras this week. In spite of my natural dislike for this sort of thing, I am going to force myself to visit every good stream and lake on the east slope as far north as Bridgeport. If I should happen to find a fly or two into these limpid waters, it will be for experimental purposes only, and so that you, dear readers may receive first hand information hot off the brook.

Incidentally, you may have noticed Cliff McBride's "Uncle Billy" lure trout out on the bank with what he evidently believed to be a four dollar, imported, hand tied and died, double stitched, swivel-mounted, Madagascar Bed-bug fly that my brother, Stew, loaned me. This is entirely wrong, because close inspection proves it to be a six dollar, water-cooled, fur-lined hand-painted, brass-bottle, bottle-nosed, "Blue Baboon" bass bug that I loaned him three years ago and have been looking for ever since!

NEW SCORING RECORD LOOMS IN U. S. OPEN

BIRMINGHAM, Mich., June 12.—(UP)—They thought Tony Manero had something last year when he set an all-time record score in winning the National Open golf championship, but Tony's 285 of 1935 was in extreme jeopardy today as the final 36 hole rounds of the Open started.

This ultra-tough course still was steaming this morning from the torrid sharpshooters of four veteran campaigners who led 65 professional and amateur qualifiers into the select group of finalists.

Out in front of the parade are four of the keenest shots in the game. They are tied for first with aggregate over the first 36 holes of 140. Ed Dudley and Frank Walsh, a pair of par-busting pros, were the first to reach the low figure in yesterday's second round when, paired together, they duplicated 70's banded out in the opening day.

Next into this exclusive group came Ralph Guldahl, lanky and bushy headed St. Louisian, who battled the competitive course record with a punishing 32 on the outward nine yesterday despite a four on the ninth hole. He combined it with 37 on the way home for a 69 that added to his first round score of 71.

The quartet of leaders was rounded out by that lambasting gentleman from Pennsylvania, Jimmy Thomson of Shawnee on the Delaware. He created an uproar with his unbelievable 66 in the second round yesterday which coupled with a 74 two over par on the first day, to kick him into the front row. If any of the four leaders clip two strokes off par—not a hard job for such versatile golfers as Walsh, Dudley, Guldahl and Thomson—they can equal Manero's record shattering 282.

BEACH GOLFEERS BAG S. C. TITLE

Orange county today boasted another Southern California high school championship—Huntington Beach's smashing victory over Beverly Hills giving the Ollers the C.I.F. golf title yesterday. The teams met at the Hollywood Country club.

Repeating what Tustin did in basketball last winter, Coach Harry Sheue's masher-wielder won from Beverly Hills by 10 strokes. Previously, he had disposed of Woodrow Wilson in the semi-finals, Redondo Beach, Huntington Park and Whittier.

Jimmy Clark, Kenneth Lark and Lowell Robbins posted 74's. Dan Sidley shot a 79, Ross Brown an 86.

Sonnenberg Off Mat Card; Hall Wrestles Numa

Facing suspension for failure to appear for his scheduled match with "Man Mountain" Dean Wednesday night at the Olympic, Gun Sonnenberg today was released from his Orange County Athletic club contract and Dr. Len Hall, California state champion, was signed to meet Leo Numa in one of the two three-fall matches billed.

Hans Steinke, German Goliath and Walter Underhill clash in the other feature bout. Sonnenberg was suspended and unable to wrestle here similar to the case of King Kong Kox, club officials notified the state athletic commission they were taking Sonnenberg off the program and substituting Dr. Hall.

The PAYOFF

BY HARRY GRAYSON
(Sports Editor, NEA Service)

Earl Whitehill, the doughty southpaw of the Cleveland Indians, has just been initiated into that select little club of Major League Pitchers Who Have Hurdled 200 Victories.

There are only three other club members still active in the majors today. They are Lefty Bob Grove, the sour old gaffer of the Boston Red Sox who rang the bell most of the time for the Philadelphia Athletics; and Waite Hoyt, the one-time Boy Wonder of the New York Yankees who is at present toiling for the Pittsburgh Pirates now and then; and ancient Jesse Haines, of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Grove has scored 243 victories to lead the parade, while Hoyt has won 230. The venerable Mr. Haines has run up 207 triumphs.

Carl Hubbell, the New York Giants' masterful southpaw, is right up close to the mark and may soon be eligible to join up. If he wins 20 games this year he'll pass the mark. Ted Lyons of the Chicago White Sox is even closer than King Carl. Ted needs only 14 victories this season. It is doubtful that the old fellow can do it this year, because 14 is a lot of ball games to win this day and age, but he is sure to pass the mark before he retires.

Quite a Celebration

But, looking at the names of the men who belong to the Pitchers Who Have, Etc., club, you can see that it is a most exclusive organization and Mr. Whitehill should be, indeed, most proud of himself, although if you know Mr. Whitehill you realize that no one need tell him to feel proud. He's funny that way.

There was quite a celebration, incidentally, when Mr. Whitehill won his 200th game.

His teammates, the rampaging Cleveland Indians, joined in the festivities and killed a couple of fatted calves, in the futile form of a couple of Washington pitchers—and exploded fireworks in the form of base hits and such—

Orange Routs Dugan; Monty Hits Homer, Saves Anaheim

Although the crippled Jack Dugan returned to the pitching hill at Westminster, the Orange Cubs found him no puzzle and retired out a 5-1 win before Dugan retired in the fifth inning.

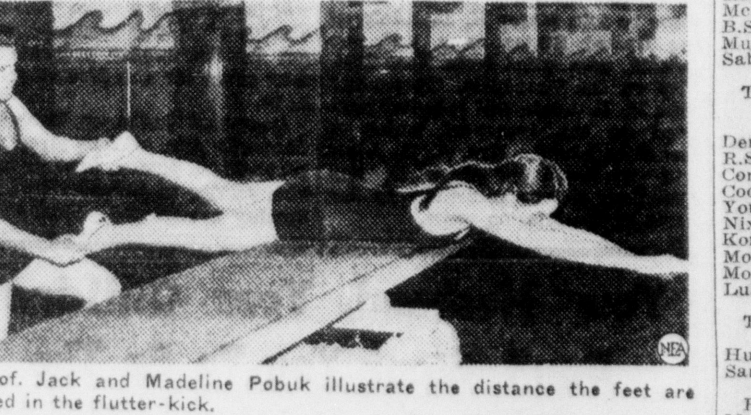

Dugan ran into trouble in the second. He had two out when Foltz walked. Gunther singled and Wait Leitchfuss hit a home run over Bell in left field. In the fourth, L. Leitchfuss singled and Struck's single to center went through Harnois' leg for a three-base error.

Westminster's run arrived in the fourth. McNab singled and tallied on hits by Fred Gunther and Sauer.

Harnois came in from the outfield to pitch for Westminster in the fifth and allowed only one safety the rest of the way. Roy Hahne, the National League's leading batsman at the end of the first quarter, returned to Orange's lineup. He went hitless but his sensational catches in left field cut off at least three Aviator runs. The box score:

GET IN THE SWIM!

Prof. Jack and Madeline Pobuk illustrate the distance the feet are moved in the flutter-kick.

(This is the second of 24 articles on swimming and beach games and stunts by Capt. Jack Pobuk, noted instructor.)

BY JACK POBUK
(Noted Swimming Instructor)
People do not become swimmers merely by dreaming or thinking about the water. Much time and effort must be spent in developing the necessary muscular movements and muscular control.

Take a major league pitcher—throwing a fast ball, and then a curve, and then a slow ball... he didn't learn all those things overnight, nor did he learn them all at once. He learned them separately.

Thus it is with swimming. You must first form the habit of lying in a fully relaxed position in order to keep afloat. Then it is necessary to learn how to move the hands and feet to give you propulsion through the water.

Friday's Games
Santa Ana at Colton; Anaheim at Huntington Beach; Orange at San Bernardino; Westminster at Riverside.

Baker Bob Smith, who makes bread in his working hours, made hay for Huntington Beach in the Municipal Bowl last night. Collaborating with Pitcher "Chico" Sabella, the tall first baseman gave Santa Ana's Stars a 6-0 thumping that left the Oilers and Stars tied for first place in the National League.

Game in and game out, Bob the Gob is just a run-of-the-mine hitter. But Smith took a fancy to Earl Morrill's submarine ball and drove in five of Huntington Beach's six runs. He singled two across in the second inning and golfed a home run to right-center with two on in the third. Two other hits were wasted. Four for four was Bob the Gob's record for the evening.

What Smith didn't do Sabella did. "Chico" no longer throws 'em by the boys but, like old Morrill, knows where to put the ball. Santa Ana got to him for nine hits, yet nobody got further than second base. It was the second time Sabella has shut out the Stars. Manager Joe Rodgers says there hasn't been an unearned run made off Sabella this season.

Unable to do anything with Sabella in the pinches, the Stars left 12 baserunners stranded. They had men aboard in every inning but the first.

Huntington Beach got all its runs in two innings.

In the second, Rodgers led off with a hit to left and McKinley bounced a double over first. They rang the bell on Bob Smith's single, a ball that hopped off the tip of Manager "Doc" Smith's glove and rolled into right field.

In the third, Osborn singled in field and Rebohn "blooped" a hit over third that Comstock dived for but couldn't hold. Rodgers dropped a single into right, scoring Osborn. And Bob the Gob swabbed the decks with his homer. It was a regular tee shot—a liner that picked up speed and altitude as it sailed between Nix and Coats.

S. A. Fielders Catch 15 Flies

After that Morrill pitched three-hit ball, but gave his outfielders a busy time. Tom Denny's tongue was hanging out at the finish; he had eight putouts, five more than First Baseman Bob Mott. Nix caught four flies. Coats three. Al Schuchardt took a single from Denny with a shoestring catch and Thierry robbed Coats in the second. . . . Francis Conrad, former Santa Ana shortstop, was a spectator. He may not return to Visalia. . . . Attendance was better, running right around a thousand. . . . The Stars are bunz crazy. They were trying to punt with one out and also when they were six runs behind. . . . It's Santa Ana at Colton Tuesday. Anaheim plays here next Friday.

NEW YORK, June 12.—Benny Kaufman, 26-year-old National motorcycle racing champion of New York, was in Morrisania hospital today in serious condition from a fall suffered last night while riding in Yankee stadium. He received a broken leg, cuts and bruises, and possible internal injuries.

Kaufman was racing Bo Lissman of Long Beach, Cal., in the East-West partridge competition when his car skidded and tossed him about 15 feet into the crash fence in center field.

Today's exercise will be the first movement of the crawl stroke, which is considered the most natural of all swimming strokes. This first movement is the flutter kick.

Repeat these counts 32 times.

Note: When kicking feet upward and downward keep a distance of about eight inches between feet. Care should be taken to have the kick coming from the hips. Do NOT bend the knees.

NEXT: Relaxation and the hand crawl.

He's Rarin' to Go

It's horsing around like this by highstrung colts that causes such long delays at the start of races. While rivals stand quickly in the stall gate at a New York track, Vamoose, with Jockey Workman up, prances and rears in his eagerness to get the afternoon's assignment over with. He spent so much energy at the post he could finish no better than third.

Gag On Golf Gallery Gives McLeMure Food For Thought

BY HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

BIRMINGHAM, Mich., June 12.—dahl, Jimmy Thomson, Ed Dudley or Frank Walsh are menacing my man and threatening to cop that $1,000 purse. I shall sock up behind them at crucial moments and unnerve them with such distracting commands as "miss that putt" or "dub that drive." This will be pretty disconcerting, as you can well imagine, and the havoc will be horrible. When there is a lull in the carnage, I can chug over to my standard bearer and bolster him by bleating, "get hot, Butch," or "you're a shoo-in, kid." Of course, if my mug boots one, I'll give him both barrels of my scathing sarcasms. He need expect a quarter if he fails me. I shall probably up set both friend and foe so that none of them will win and some sabled steed will sneak in as Manero did last year.

U. S. G. A. Mildewed
The U. S. G. A. is a crochety and slightly mildewed outfit. They haven't changed a rule since the second bounce was out. They probably won't like the McLeMure O-M C. and J. section. If I remember the rules, and I'm sure I don't, a sneeze is a misdemeanor, a cough is disorderly conduct, a whistle is a felony and loud conversation is good for 99 years with Saturday afternoons off for good behavior. This is based on the theory that a golfer has to concentrate. This is sheer flattery, because I have been around athletes for a long while, and those who have more to think with than strong and sinewy muscles are not only exceptions, but absolute rarities. I am of a mind that what the U. S. G. A. takes for concentration is 50 per cent a trophy and the rest fatigue.

Try and name me one thing any athlete has ever done for civilization. And when you've penetrated that peccan's ulcer, name me something any sports writer has ever done for ditto.

NEW YORK, June 12.—Feeling that "weighty legal authority" was overlooked and "certain pertinent facts" were not taken into consideration when the U. S. circuit court of appeals refused to halt the Braddock-Louis fight, Madison Square Garden sought a reargument of the case today.

Regardless of the outcome, the Garden intends to sue for damages all persons who induced Champion James J. Braddock to disregard a contract to fight Max Schmeling June 3.

ATTRACTIONS IN LOCAL THEATRES

COLBERT FILM FOR BROADWAY

Back to the laugh division of the movies after a successful fling at serious historical drama, Claudette Colbert arrives at the Broadway today, for more of a fling in "I Met Him in Paris," bright transatlantic comedy romance which features Melvyn Douglas and Robert Young.

And in the second feature, one can almost smell burning tires of the bullet-like racing cars as they career crazily around the speedways in Columbia's dashing new film, "Speed to Spare." "Porky's Duck Hunt," color cartoon; musical, "Being on the Girls," and latest Fox Movietone, are added attractions.

Miss Colbert was last seen in "Maid of Salem," taking a heavy dramatic lead. In "I Met Him in Paris," she becomes the modern working girl again, full of fun and plenty of "gags." She falls in love with two men of widely different personalities and it becomes a predicament for her to know which to marry. Douglas is a man of few words, Young the super-egotist who thinks he has a way with women. Much of the action is laid in the Swiss Alps.

With a zest for life and defiance of death, some of the world's greatest drivers provide "Speed to Spare" racing sequences with thrills enough for Barney Oldfield in his heyday. Charles Quigley, leading player, is an actor to reckon with. Dorothy Wilson, Eddie Nugent and Patricia Farr, newcomer, are in the well-chosen cast. Rex Mays, Chet Gardner, Bob Swanson and many other speedway champions appear in the thrilling picture.

'PARNELL' STARS GABLE AND LOY

The tensely human story of a love that affected nations, is drawn vividly in the fictional drama of "Parnell," "unworned" of Ireland, which M-G-M offers at the West Coast today, through Tuesday. The second feature is no less than "Big Business," with the inimitable "Jones Family," including Ned Prouty. Special added attractions are on the same program.

Clark Gable and Myrna Loy are starred in "Parnell." Directed by John Stahl, from the original stage play by Elsie T. Schaeffer, the screen adaptation was written by John Van Druten and closely follows the spectacular career of Charles Stewart Parnell, who found a great love more powerful than a great cause.

The story describes the historical rise of Parnell, who was the only man ever to unite the 86 members of the Irish Party in a struggle for home rule. His love for Katie O'Shea, Miss Loy, a married woman, the scandal which results when her estranged husband divorces her, and the collapse of Parnell's political career, are closely followed with all of their dramatic qualities.

"Big Business," with all of the players back in their familiar roles, calls for a long and thrilling high-speed auto ride at the end, which saves the day for the Joneses. The film shows one of the most breath-taking auto rides ever filmed. It's the story of the Joneses' battle against home racketeers.

Westerns End On Princess Screen

Taming wild horses, rough and tumble fighting, transferring from a racing horse to the top of a stage coach, dropping from tree tops onto backs of unsuspecting horsemen, doing a Steve Brodie from a bridge into river rapids—such hair-raising escapades are shown in "The Vigilantes Are Coming," screening at the new Princess theater for the last times today in Chapter 1. Robert Livingston, Guinn Williams, William Farnum, Fred Kohler, Yakima Canutt and Raymond Hatton are among the featured players. The picture is a 12-episode serial. Bob Steele in "Border Phantom," and an Andy Clyde comedy, "Hot Paprika," complete the bill.

Bette Davis, Academy winner, bids fair to repeat with her stellar performance in "Marked Woman," which starts tomorrow at Walker's. "Call It a Day," second feature, is a comedy-drama which had a great stage success. Above, Miss Davis with Humphrey Bogart, in "Marked Woman," picture of night club hostesses who "turn".

Three "champs" of "gag" tossing with Claudette Colbert, the winner, appear on the Broadway screen beginning today. Miss Colbert appears, above, with the two men she loves in "I Met Him in Paris." Robert Young, left, and Melvyn Douglas. Second feature is "Speed to Spare," a roaring picture of the speedway kings, featuring Charles Quigley, Eddie Nugent, Dorothy Wilson and Patricia Farr.

One of the grandest love stories ever filmed is told in the picture, "Parnell," now showing at the West Coast, starring Clark Gable and Myrna Loy. It is the story of a great man's effort to bring Ireland home rule. Second feature brings the Jones Family in a laugh riot, "Big Business." Above are Gable and Miss Loy in a romantic scene.

BETTE DAVIS AT WALKER'S

Bette Davis, who won last year's Academy award as the screen's greatest actress, makes her 1937 bid for renewed honors in a gripping story taken from headlines flashed across the country, "Marked Woman," which starts at Walker's tomorrow. "Call It a Day," second feature, is adapted from a stage hit which swept London and Broadway theater-goers off their feet some time ago.

"Tennis Tactics," a Pete Smith special, and newsreels complete the program.

"Marked Woman," declared by Miss Davis to give her the most powerful role of her career, takes the audience behind the scenes of night clubs, long suspected of being owned by or affiliated with nationally notorious gangsters of the type now fleeing from racket investigations. It is the story of those beautiful girls who serve as hostesses in these places, and whose lives themselves are forfeit if they disobey orders. The night-club girls are Bette Davis, Isabel Jewell, Jane Bryan, Rosalind Marquis, Lola Lane and Mayo Methot. They take their lives in their hands when Prosecutor Humphrey Bogart induces them to expose "Boss" Eduardo Ciannelli's methods.

"Call It a Day" is a delightful comedy-drama based upon the sentimental experiences of an English suburban family when spring sets them on the love paths.

Olivia de Havilland, sky-rocketing little brunette star, is to be seen as the daughter of the family. Ian Hunter and Frieda Inescort are her parents.

Then there are Anita Louise, Alice Brady, Roland Young, Peggy Wood, Bonita Granville and half a dozen others who become involved in the atmosphere of romance.

MARX BROTHERS TO "RIOT" WEDNESDAY

A horse-doctor pretending to be a specialist on "double blood pressure," a jockey who spurs his horse to win by showing the nag a picture of a man the horse doesn't like, and a vendor of incredibly bad racing tips will have you bent double in laughter when you see "A Day at the Races," which opens Wednesday at the West Coast. Yes, with the Marx brothers.

A love so steadfast that your heart exults, infuses with a warm glow the exciting events of "That I May Live," production featuring Rochelle Hudson, Robert Kent and J. Edward Bromberg, on the second billing. It is the dramatic romance of young love menaced by the shadow of prison walls. In the Marx "fun catastrophe," Groucho plays the horse doctor; Harpo, the jockey, and Chico, the vendor of bad tips; Maureen O'Sullivan, Allan Jones, Margaret Dumont, Esther Muir, Leonard Ceeley, Douglas Dumbrille and other assist in the "rioting."

'ALL-LOVE' BILL STARTS THURSDAY

"As Good as Married," and "You Can't Beat Love," are a couple of motion picture titles in combination which might have plenty of significance to almost any bachelor girl or boy but those are titles of the double-bill program coming to the Broadway Thursday.

"As Good as Married," without exaggeration, is dazzling. It is a novel story, centering around the efforts of a successful architect to save money on his income tax by marrying his beautiful stenographer. Naturally there would be trouble ahead, and there is. John Boles and Doris Nolan lead the cast which includes such notables as Walter Pidgeon, Alan Mowbray, Edward Buzzell and Esther Ralston.

There's more entertainment quality and potential showmanship available in "You Can't Beat Love," than the "sweet and lovely" title indicates. The production is a wholesome comedy which includes much gay amusement. Lively in dialog and action, with the point of the theme hinging on several humorous situations, the picture moves swiftly and is shrewdly produced to avoid pitfalls which any attempt to pad or string out might entail.

Among the well-chosen players are Preston Foster, Herbert Mundin, Barbara Pepper, Berton Churchill, Joan Fontaine, Paul Hurst and William Brisbane. "March of Time" No. 11 is a special added feature.

LAUNCH SUMMER PROGRAM
YORBA LINDA, June 12.—Summer school playground will begin Monday for children of the Yorba Linda school district with Jarrett Terrell director, in charge. Day schedules run from 8 a. m. to 12 noon, from Monday to Friday exclusive. Although the night schedules have not been worked out, it has been definitely decided to have two supervised play nights each week. During the day sessions tools for wood carving and an instructor in the craft will be on the ground to assist interested pupils. A course in bow and arrow making with a capable instructor in charge is promised if enough pupils enroll for the class.

PAY OFFICIAL VISIT
LA HABRA, June 12.—Officers of the La Habra chapter of the Eastern Star, received formally the deputy grand matron, Ruth McLaughlin of Buena Park, for her official visit Thursday evening. Refreshments were later served in the dining room, which was decorated in yellow and blue.

BISMARCK, N. D., (UP)—A bright-colored poster, one of thousands which before the turn of the century ballyhooed W. E. (Buffalo Bill) Cody's wildest thrills across the land and in foreign countries, now hangs in Memorial library museum here.

Evelyn Venable and Phil Regan, above, in a delightful scene from the new Republic musical comedy smash, "Happy-Go-Lucky," showing in the Princess beginning tomorrow, for three days. Two other interesting features are scheduled for the same program. Conrad Nagel, Vince Barnett, Jack LaRue, and others play in "Yellow Cargo," story of Los Angeles harbor smuggling. Bryant Washburn and Jack Mulhall feature in "The Clutching Hand," mystery thriller.

PRINCESS THEATER SCREENS 3 FEATURES ON SUNDAY BILL

Three new pictures screen beginning tomorrow for a three-day run at the new Princess theater, Fourth at Spurgeon, with Bryant Washburn, Conrad Nagel, Evelyn Venable and Phil Regan among the featured players.

Scores of almond-eyed Shanghai dancing beauties comprising the first ever to appear as a chorus in movies, Argentine dancers, three new Phil Regan songs, a 30-piece orchestra, night life along the famous Shanghai bund, romance, intrigue and Oriental color—they are chief ingredients which make "Happy-Go-Lucky" one of the best musical films of the year.

Jed Prouty of "Jones Family" fame, Karl Hackett and others join Miss Venable and Regan in "Happy-Go-Lucky."

In the role of special government agent, whose task it is to break up a powerful Chinese smuggling ring, Conrad Nagel will be seen in the swift moving comedy, "Yellow Cargo." The story deals with landing of orientals at Los Angeles harbor. Vince Barnett, comedian, Jack LaRue and others feature with Nagel.

Once one of the screen's most hilarious comedians, Bryant Washburn has now turned to more serious drama, in "The Clutching Hand," 15-episode chapter-play, adaptation of Arthur B. Reeves' popular novels. Jack Mulhall is a member of the cast, as scientific sleuth, Craig Kennedy. Washburn has carried out a life-long dream in this picture, of leaving comedy roles for those of serious vein. The three-features program is the second one showing since opening of the Princess Friday. A Sunday matinee will be added, other shows only at night.

ORANGE MAN IN WALKER'S FILM

The conflict which confronts a young doctor—duty to the woman he loves versus his devotion to highest tenets of the code of medical ethics, forms plot of "A Doctor's Diary," which opens Thursday at Walker's, with "Hopalong Cassidy (Willie A. Boyd), featuring the second picture, "Hills of Old Wyoming." Colored cartoon and news are added attractions.

John Trent, former ace flyer and resident of Orange, where he was Laverne Brown, makes his appearance in the leading role of "A Doctor's Diary." Browne, or Trent, as he now is known on the screen, is a young doctor with refreshing ideas of how hospitals should be run. The brilliant cast includes Helen Burgess, George Bancroft, Sidney Blackmer, Molly Lamont and Ruth Colman. "Hills of Old Wyoming" contains authentic and colorful portrayals of scenes of Sioux Indian ceremonies, including a war dance. In a thrilling climax, Cassidy heads a band of warriors and ranch owners in a magnificent charge against a rustler band.

George Brent and Beverly Roberts, above, in a romantic mood during their picturization of "God's Country and the Woman," which opens tomorrow at the State, with "The Last of the Mohicans" as second feature. These outdoor pictures, with "God's Country and the Woman" in technicolor, are highly recommended.

OUTDOOR PICTURES SCREEN AT STATE

"God's Country and the Woman," Warner brothers' brilliant picturization of James Oliver Curwood's novel, dealing with a feud between lumber companies in the Northwest, and Randolph Scott, Binnie Barnes and Henry Wilcoxon, in "The Last of the Mohicans," make up the double-bill at the State, beginning tomorrow.

George Brent, star, and Beverly Roberts, have the leading roles in "God's Country and the Woman." The thrillingly dramatic romance of the story is heightened by the fact that the scenes were photographed wholly in natural color.

Brent and Miss Roberts have an excellent supporting cast, including Barton MacLane, Robert Barrat, Allen Hale, El Brendel, Billy Bevan, and Joseph King. Hundreds of real lumberjacks appear in the exciting scenes.

Also featured in "The Last of the Mohicans" in important roles of this unforgettable story of glorious adventure, heart-stirring romance and thundering conflict for a nation yet unborn, are Bruce Cabot, Heather Angel, Philip Reed, Robert Barrat, Willard Robertson and Hugh Buckler. Breath-taking highlights include defense of Fort William Henry against onslaught of French legions. "Ace Drummond," Chapter 5, is an added feature.

Newspaper Film To Arrive Soon

The perfect screen-team's fourth and biggest co-starring hit, "There Goes My Girl," with Gene Raymond and Ann Sothern, shows at the Broadway Sunday, June 20, with "Slim," a Warner brothers special, with Pat O'Brien, Henry Fonda and Margaret Lindsay, as second feature.

"There Goes My Girl" is a story of the ace reporter, Gene Raymond, on "The World," and Ann Sothern, star newshawk for "The Morning Herald," who on the eve of their wedding, are given a party by the Herald's city editor. The city editor, in fact, wants to stop the wedding and give a party to the services, but...well let's not spoil the story.

"Slim" is the story of the colorful, perilous, touch-and-go lives of the high-tension line-men, those sturdy lads who put up steel towers across the land. Furthermore, it is a charming love story. Several shorts are added attractions.

VARIETY FARE IN 2 STATE PROGRAMS

Three feature pictures appear on the State screen in two programs arranged for Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, with chilly mystery, fun, romance and music as the entertaining offering.

Wednesday and Thursday, "Bride of Frankenstein" and "Hearts in Bondage," feature, with "Rushin' Ballet," as a comedy "extra" and "Pups and Gypsies," a cartoon.

Friday and Saturday, "The Big Show," a musical western, "The Count Takes the Count," Charlie Chase comedy; "Be Human," Betty Boop cartoon; "Flash Gordon," chapter eight, and newsreel, complete a well-arranged program.

The motion pictures' strangest drama is unfolded with "The Bride of Frankenstein," hair-raising Universal story, which sets a new high mark in the realm of the so-called "horror" pictures. The picture is a sequel to "Frankenstein," telling of creation by a half-mad scientist of a monster in human form, built from parts of the bodies of those who had died before. In the sequel, the monster learns to talk and becomes a part of a vast excitement when a woman is similarly created at the height of a wild storm. As before, Boris Karloff takes the lead.

Beautiful Lancaster lake, in Southern California, is setting for "Hearts in Bondage," Civil war romance which brings James Dunn and Mae Clarke to the same screen. David Manners, Irving Walthall, Fritz Leiber, Henry Pichel, J. M. Kerrigan, Frank McGlynn and Charlotte Henry feature.

Young People Assemble For Weekend Party In L. F. Moulton Home

Arrival in the Southland of John Auld of Chicago for a short visit occasioned plans for a weekend party which is in progress today and tomorrow in the Lewis F. Moulton home at El Toro, where Miss Louise Moulton is assembling a group of former Pomona students and other friends for a merry affair. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Moulton are assisting in extending the hospitality of the home.

Mr. Auld, who arrived Tuesday on the City of Los Angeles, plans to leave for the return trip Monday. A student at Pomona college a few years ago, he has since been graduated from University of Chicago. Miss Moulton, a graduate of Pomona, studied at Davis Agricultural college this past year, having returned home three weeks ago.

Others in the party are Miss Moulton's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Matulis of Villa Park; Mr. and Mrs. William Thornton White of Corona del Mar; Miss Caroline Van Dolah, Pomona; Charles Longacre, Lindsey; Miss Elizabeth Downey, George Munro, Santa Ana; Miss Nan Wilson, Lucien Miner, Miss Gerry Smith, Los Angeles; Jack Crammer, Redlands; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kern.

Horseback riding—with the rolling hills of Niguel Rancho as the background—is one of the many outdoor pastimes planned for the group. There may be a trip to the beaches as a feature of the party.

Climaxing the hospitality will be a barbecue event Sunday evening. The big barbecue pit of the estate will be used in preparing the dinner, which will be served at a long table in the garden. When the sun goes down, there will be rows of Japanese lanterns to light the scene. Dancing and cards will be after-dinner diversions.

Interesting Voyages Are Ahead For Many Santa Anas

Many Santa Anas are leaving tonight for vacation trips; some selecting the Hawaiian Islands and others going to Europe and the British Isles. Travel arrangements were made by Julia Ann Hyde of the Commercial National bank travel bureau.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hill, 1103 Bush street, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Paterson, 421 West Santa Clara avenue, and Miss Jean Ferrey of Main street in Tustin, sail this evening on the Matson line S. S. Lurline for Honolulu. The trip is of special significance to Mr. and Mrs. Hill and Mr. and Mrs. Paterson as both couples will celebrate wedding anniversaries June 15 while they are en route to the islands.

Miss Barbara Warner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Warner, 326 East Bishop street, Miss Effie Douglas, 626 North Broadway, and Miss Hazel Cubbon of Newport Beach leave tonight by train for Chicago where they will spend a day with Miss Douglas' sister. From there they will go to Cincinnati, O., and then to Washington, D. C., to spend some time with relatives of Miss Cubbon. In Washington they will meet Miss Warner's aunt, Mrs. Homer Bosworth of Mexico City, and will travel to New York City to board the S. S. Britannica for Europe.

Their tour of Europe will include France, Switzerland, Germany and the British Isles. They will spend three weeks with relatives on the Isle of Man, and the latter part of September will board the Duchess of Atholl in Ireland. They will return via the Canadian Rockies and Lake Louise.

Alaskan Tour
A tour of the Yukon Circle, to be conducted by Mrs. Hyde, has been arranged by the Bureau, with several Santa Anas included in the group. The Alaskan party leaves Tuesday night.

SUMMER AT YOSEMITE
Miss Dorothy Proctor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Proctor, 640 North Van Ness avenue, who has just concluded her junior year studies at Scripps college, left Friday evening for Yosemite, where she will spend the summer. She plans to return home after the Labor day holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Proctor and Mrs. S. W. Andrews of Orange were in Claremont Wednesday night for a program presented by Scripps' Orchestra club. Miss Proctor gave one of the solo dances of the evening.

You and Your Friends

Members of Woman's club of Santa Ana who were in Buena Park yesterday attending board meeting of Orange County Federation of Women's clubs were Mesdames Raymond McMahon, F. A. Martin, R. G. Carman, L. A. Tarbox, Irving Breese, J. D. Watkins, James McCracken and Miss Linda Kroecker.

Mrs. Maud Ferguson and her father, B. T. Hinds, of Tustin are visiting relatives in Iowa, where they will spend several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Jackson, 911 Highland street, plan to leave today for Denver, Colo., and expect to remain until September.

UNIVERSAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH
2198 No. Main St., Santa Ana
Conducting
THE SANTA ANA WEDDING CHAPEL

Wait A Minute

Bridal paths and bride trails have been trod by many Santa Anas of late, the most successful of the equestriennes having been Eloise (outdoor girl) Hickey—she not only has a title, but has the opportunity to compete for further laurels in Salinas later in the summer—those who walk the bridal path seem to do their coming first—at least they did in the good old days—or something—as Eddie (smilin') Marble would say.

Wedding bells will chime tonight for Doris (secretary) Smothers and Edward (Tractor and implement) Clasen, who will go to Orange to be married in St. John's Lutheran church—Doris has kept calm and collected by going right on with her office chores to the very last—Ann (beauty specialist) Schubert and Harold (fender dinger) Post, who live in Orange, will come to Santa Ana wedding chapel to be married tomorrow—Ann is wearing a new wrist watch and Harold has a Gladstone bag—nice exchange of gifts we'd say.

June 20 may be just another day to some folks, but to at least three couples, it will be The Wedding day—Lenora (teacher) Fernandez and Ralph (automotive) Culp; Fern (Job Daughters) Farmer and Frank (salesman) Willis; Mary Helen (Pomona) Bell and John (Journalist) McVeth—all may become members of the "married June 20, 1937 Club—C. W. (Rev. genial) Hicks is interested in forming a golden wedding club—he isn't eligible to join, but has some very close friends who are—including Mary Elizabeth and L. P. The Mixing Bowl

By ANN MEREDITH

Slim down your own bulges and curves with a few minutes daily self massage, given right after you get out of your bath. Dust hands with powder and don't spare the horses in the rubbing you do on hips, thighs, tummy and back. Persisted in, you will see results in one month that will astonish you.

Rubbing of back and shoulders requires vanishing cream rather than powder, for you attain a double blessing in this massage—the shoulders and back are made trim, and the skin becomes firm and satiny, something you will be delighted with next autumn when concerts and parties start and evening dresses are the order of the day.

At first you'll almost have to stand on your head to massage your own back, but stay with it, and before long that awkward arm will loosen up. You will notice that the movement used brings the muscles of the upper arm and back into play, that is what flattens the back and removes the soft fat.

Be your own masseuse, use the calory chart in picking your food, and you just can't help but keep trim and attractive. The calory chart you get by writing for it, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and one of your best recipes.

EAT AND GROW SLIM MENUS

1 cup hot tomato juice, seasoned to taste

Salad: Shredded lettuce, 1-4 avocado, diced, 1-2 cup strawberries, sliced.

Dressing: 1 teaspoon olive oil, juice of 1-2 lemon

1 slice toasted soy bean bread, no butter

Iced tea with lemon and saccharin.

Calory total, $30.

Add white or dark bread in some form for the family, a rather hearty dessert, and iced tea or milk.

Dinner

1 large slice of pot roast, no gravy, or

1-4 pound ground round steak, pan-broiled

1 small new potato, baked

1 cup sliced carrots

1 lettuce salad with cottage cheese and pineapple dressing.

Black coffee or iced tea, with lemon and saccharin.

Calory total, $50.

Complete the family meal by the addition of rolls and dessert.

The Starred Recipes

Pan-broiled steak: Form the quarter-pound of steak into a flat loose cake. Brush the pan lightly with oil, heat it, put in the pat of meat, nest a small piece of cheese in the meat, dust with garlic salt and pepper.

Carrots: Peel and slice very thin enough carrots to serve the family. Put carrots in a tightly covered sauce pan, add a tablespoon of oil, 2 cloves of garlic, a teaspoon of sugar and a dusting of salt. Simmer over a low flame until done, remove garlic before serving. (Carrot-haters become carrot-lovers with this recipe.)

Lettuce Salad: Cut a thick slice of lettuce and pour over a generous amount of this dressing: 1-2 cup cottage cheese mixed with 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, 1-2 cup grated pineapple, and a little lemon juice.

PICKHARDT IS ORDAINED AT BAPTIST RITES

Roland Pickhardt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Pickhardt, of 820 Bush street, was ordained as a minister at the Fullerton Baptist church by the Rev. Francis E. Hawes and a group of church dignitaries Friday night.

The Rev. Mr. Pickhardt attended Santa Ana junior college for one year before he transferred to the William Jewell college at Liberty Mo., where he completed his studies for the ministry.

His brother was recently elected president of Santa Ana junior college student body for the fall semester.

The ordination was an impressive service with the Rev. Mr. Hawes acting as moderator and the Rev. Dr. Otto S. Russell, former Santa Ana pastor, now secretary of the Southern California conference, preaching the ordination sermon, "A Man Sent."

The Rev. T. A. Flynn read the invocation while the Rev. Paul Peach, an uncle of the new preacher, read the scripture. Laura Joiner of Santa Ana, was soloist for the occasion.

The Rev. Mr. Pickhardt is well known throughout Orange county, and many of his friends attended the ceremony.

He will leave tomorrow for Elwood, Kansas, where he will have his first pastorate.

Miss Michelsen Becomes Bride Of F. L. Pelleriti

GARDEN GROVE, June 12.—Miss Charlotte A. Michelsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Mauerman, of Garden Grove, and Frank L. Pelleriti, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Pelleriti, of San Francisco, were united in marriage Saturday evening, June 5, at 5 o'clock at a ceremony performed by Father de Martini in St. Peter's and Paul's church in the northern city, and witnessed by more than 200 relatives and friends.

The altar of the church, which is considered the most beautiful in San Francisco, was lighted by a purple light and the wedding party walked up the aisle on a white carpet. The lovely blonde bride entered the church on the arm of her brother, Ralph C. Michelsen, of Garden Grove, who gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of white satin with all lace redingote, both having trains, and a long veil fastened on her head with a cluster of orange blossoms. Her arm bouquet was lilacs of the valley with a shower of gardenias.

Mrs. Twain Michelsen, of San Francisco, aunt of the bride, was first bridesmaid, and wore apricot taffeta with matching hat and carried Talisman roses with a center of lilacs of the valley. Miss Dorothy Mae Knapp, of Garden Grove, second bridesmaid, wore a pale blue taffeta gown and hat and carried blue delphiniums and gardenias. The maid of honor, Miss Alma Pelleriti, of San Francisco, sister of the bridegroom, wore a formal pale green taffeta with train and small hat and veil. Her flowers were yellow rosebuds and gardenias.

James Barry served as best man and the ushers were Arthur de Luce and Fabian Collins, all of San Francisco. Preceding the ceremony a soprano solo, "Ave Maria," was sung and Lohengrin's wedding march played on the organ. The bridal party left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's.

Twenty relatives and the bridal party went to the Lido cafe for a 6:30 o'clock dinner before the reception which commenced at 8 o'clock in Baymen's hall and was attended by about 200 persons. A beautifully decorated cake was cut and served with ices.

During the reception the happy couple slipped away and left on a honeymoon trip to British Columbia. For going away the bride wore a beige wool suit with red squirrel collar and accessories of British tan. Upon their return they will be at home at 3315 Steiner street, San Francisco.

The bride graduated from the Garden Grove Union High school with the class of '32. Later she at-

Unitarians Will Mark Children's Day Tomorrow

Children's Day will be observed at the Unitarian church tomorrow with children's exercises, special music and a christening service, together with an address on Horace Mann and his work for the children of America.

The Rev. Julia N. Budlong, minister of the church, had this to say today regarding her subject:

"What would America be without its public schools? And where would its public schools be without Horace Mann? This is the year of the centennial celebration of his entry into the educational field, as it is the year of the entry of Theodore Parker into the ministry. The N. E. A. is celebrating the one, the A. U. A., the other. Therefore Horace Mann has his place in the Theodore Parker Centennial series by which the local Unitarian church is observing the Parker Centennial.

"The men were friends and fellow workers in the great reform movements of the day. They worked together, inspired each other and fought for each other in the bitter controversies which raged about their heads. Americans today cannot believe that public schools had to weather the same bitter animosity which any great new popular movement awakens. They were considered Socialistic, radical, dangerous, a menace to orderly government and property rights. Horace Mann saved popular education in America as Theodore Parker saved free religion."

Martha Mueller and Agnes Andrews will assist the minister in the service of christening, which will precede the address, and Caroline, Helen and Barbara Crane will join in the opening service.

MELROSE ABBEY PLANS MUSICAL

Melrose Abbey chapel will be the scene of a varied musical program Sunday afternoon, with Mr. and Mrs. Ira McNamee, of Fullerton, appearing in two illustrated solos, entitled "The Ninety and Nine" (Sankey) and "Alone", the composition of Price.

Miss Jean Campbell of Anaheim, contralto, will sing a group of sacred selections, "Jesus Took My Burden" (Bertha Lillenas), "Remember" (A. H. Ackley) and "The Day Without a Cloud" (B. D. Ackley).

John Stirrat will give two tenor solos, "Sing Me a Song of Heaven" (Hovey) and "The Harbor Bells" (Fillmore).

David Craighead will act as accompanist and also play three selections, "Adagio Pathétique" (Godard), "Canzonetta" (Fry) and "Grand Choeur" (Kinders).

The public is invited to all Musical Memory Hour programs which begin promptly at 3 o'clock. Melrose Abbey is on 101 Highway between Santa Ana and Anaheim.

Church Societies

First Presbyterian
Miss Lucy Shafer spoke on her recent trip to eastern Oklahoma to members of Woman's Missionary society of First Presbyterian church Wednesday afternoon at the church. Miss Shafer visited in the homes of friends who formerly were her students when in the Ozark mountains 35 years ago, it was reported.

Recognition service for shut-in members of the society, and memorial services for departed members of the group were conducted. Favorite hymns and poems were sung and read. Mrs. J. L. Marshall led devotionals and Mrs. R. J. Blee led in prayer.

tended Fullerton Junior college and for the past year and a half has been assistant cashier of the Golden Gate theater in San Francisco. Before her marriage she spent a couple of months with her parents in Garden Grove and was honored with a number of showers and parties. The bridegroom is a graduate of the Mission high school and employed at the Hibernia Savings bank.

Attending from Garden Grove besides Miss Knapp and Mr. Michelsen of the bridal party were the bride's mother, Mrs. J. A. Mauerman and daughter, Lois and son Buddy.

"COME TO CHURCH CAMPAIGN"

THE SABBATH!

This is a subject, I feel, that needs some attention. I marvel when I hear people speak of Sunday as the Sabbath. Sunday never was, is not now, and never will be the Sabbath.

A few verses of scripture will show to whom the Sabbath was given. "And Jehovah said unto Moses, write thou these words: for after the tenor of these words I have made a covenant with thee and with Israel . . . and he wrote upon the tables the words of the covenant, the ten commandments." Exodus 34:27, 28. To prove that the covenant then made was for Israel only, let us read Deut. 5:6. "And Moses called unto all Israel, and said unto them, Hear, O Israel, the statutes and the ordinances which I speak in your ears this day, that ye may learn them, and observe and do them. Jehovah our God made a covenant with us in Horeb. Jehovah made not this covenant with our fathers, but with us, even us who are all of us here alive this day."

That the Sabbath law had not been given before Moses went into Mount Sinai is shown by Nehemiah 9:13, 14. "Thou camest down also on Mount Sinai, and spakest with them from heaven, and gavest them right ordinances and true laws, good statutes and commandments, and madest known unto them thy holy Sabbath." If Moses made known unto them the Sabbath, it follows that they knew nothing about it before.

The Bible tells us why the Sabbath was given. "And thou shalt remember that thou wast a servant in the land of Egypt, and Jehovah thy God brought thee out thence by a mighty hand, and by an outstretched arm: therefore, Jehovah thy God commanded thee to keep the Sabbath day." The reason here assigned for keeping the Sabbath could not apply to any other people. Gentiles were never servants in the land of Egypt.

God said he would make a new covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah; not according to the covenant that he made with their fathers.

Acts 20:7 shows clearly that disciples of Christ worshipped on the first day of the week or Sunday.

Flag Day
June 14th

Our flag represents all that is fine, all that is noble and the highest ideals of an idealistic people. It means freedom of thought, tolerance for the opinion of others, the sacredness of our homes, it means succor for the oppressed and a chance of achievement for the ambitious. The folds of our flag hold the secret of each man's destiny. It is because of the freedom which it represents, we are not forever stigmatized by the environment in which we find ourselves. It is because of it that a man rises to the level of his capabilities.

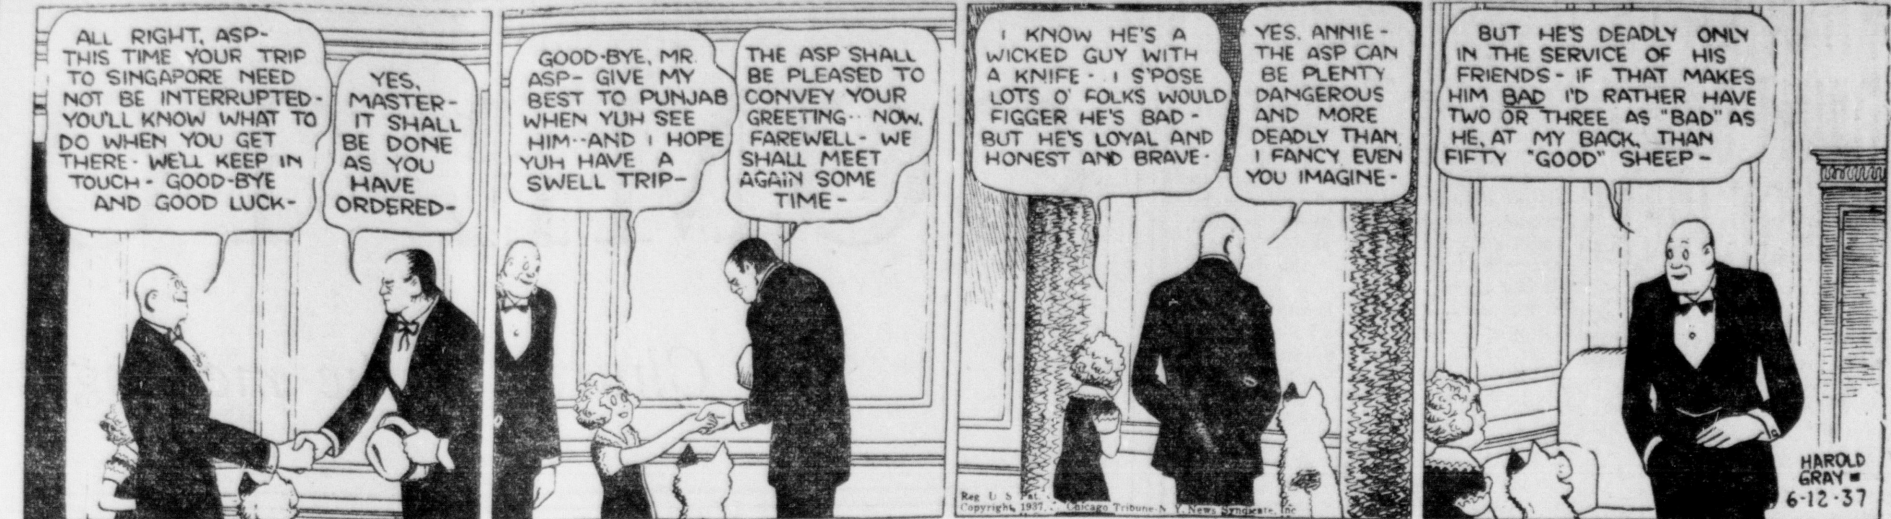

The protection of your home is not a police department, a fire department nor the lock on your door—it is the Stars and Stripes. Proudly hang it over the doorway to your home. Allow the shadow of its munificence to cover each individual act of your daily life.

Stamp News

BY I. S. KLEIN

OFFICIAL announcement by Postmaster General Farley confirms the report, made recently of a proposed stamp commemorating the 350th anniversary of the founding of a colony in South Carolina by Sir Walter Raleigh. The new stamp will honor Virginia Dare, first child of English parentage born in America. It will be of the five-cent denomination. First day of issue will be August 18.

A set of nine stamps is being prepared for the British colony of Kedah in the Straits Settlements. Not since 1922 have new stamps been issued from this colony.

Coronation stamps from many of the British colonies and outlying possessions may be rarer than was first expected. Some colonies already have stopped printing the new stamps. At the same time increased difficulty in obtaining the issues from distant possessions will make such stamps all the more desirable.

Cuba, in July, will issue a set of three stamps commemorating the fourth centenary of sugar cane growing. The 1c value shows the plant. The 2c stamp pictures an ancient mill with oxen furnishing the power, and the 5c shows a modern sugar refinery.

Italy will shortly commemorate the 600th anniversary of the death of the Florentine painter, Giotto, with a series of stamps.

MARTIAL ROME GROWS TENSE, VISITOR FEELS

BY DAN ROGERS

United Press Staff Correspondent

LONDON (UP)—The city of Rome to a traveler typifies the unrest current in Europe. It presents the appearance of a nation at war—or expecting war tomorrow.

The correspondent stayed there overnight on an air trip to the Adriatic. In 12 hours a half-dozen revealing incidents gave signs of the times.

Uniforms were seen everywhere. The streets were crowded with soldiers, sailors and airmen, many of them bearing arms. At the huge sports arena, young men drilled—a close order marching drill that had no peaceful use. These were in civilian clothes and were not armed.

Youths' Pride in Military

Two streetcars pulled up and disgorged a company of yelling, singing youths in their early teens. They wore uniforms and iron-shod field boots. Each slung a rifle to his shoulder as they smartly formed squads and marched away, still singing a Fascist song. They were joyous in their military pursuit.

A train of trucks passed, filled with troops. These wore steel helmets and stern faces. No song came from them.

At the hotel, the Italian barber inquired if the correspondent was English. "No, American," was the reply. "Oh, American!" the barber exclaimed, his face beaming; "that much better." Italians still dislike the English for leading sanctions against them during the conquest of Ethiopia, and they do not intend to forget.

In the bar of the hotel, one of the finest in Rome, were many men in evening clothes and beautifully gowned women. Suddenly a man, one of those in evening clothes, reached across the bar and grabbed some red roses from a vase.

"Red is for Communists," he shouted and hurled them to the floor.

The barman expostulated. Blows followed words. Police were called. Excitement and a literal torrent of voluble Italian filled the room.

Il Duce's Home Guard

Later the correspondent and a friend took a carriage and drove out to see Mussolini's home. It occupies a plot almost two square blocks in size and is surrounded by a high wall of masonry. A dozen apparent loiterers lounged along the front of the place.

"They are not loiterers but picked bodyguards," the resident of Rome whispered. "No one loiters here. Watch and I'll show you."

He ordered the carriage turned about at the end of the wall. Immediately the "loiterers" were alert. As the carriage neared Il Duce's high iron entrance gates on the return trip, two men strolled into the street from each side. They moved slowly and apparently aimlessly but when the carriage came opposite the gates they were within a yard of it, hands in coat pockets.

Ready For Any Emergency

On addition, uniformed motorcycle police were stationed at each corner of the estate and several automobiles were ready for possible use by the plain clothes guards.

Air tourists in Italy who possess cameras of any description must have them sealed in a metal container at the frontier, there to stay until they leave Italy. Many areas are forbidden to foreign aircraft and as a consequence, rather limited avenues of approach are left at some of the principal airports.

The press speaks with one voice. The voice is that of Fascism and Il Duce. All opposition was silenced long ago. In almost every lapel is the Fascist emblem—red, white and green and almost an inch square. Italians even wear it with full dress, if they are not of the large group privileged to wear a uniform.

GARNER TO START VACATION SUNDAY

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(UP)—Vice President John N. Garner will leave Congress for a "four, five or six weeks vacation" starting Sunday, he said yesterday after a conference with President Roosevelt.

Garner will go to his Uvalde, Texas, home and "spend most of the time fishing."

The vice president, who presides over the senate, said he had Mr. Roosevelt's permission to leave his duties for a period ranging from four to six weeks.

BRITAIN DRAWS WAR PLAN FOR AERIAL CONVOY

LONDON (UP)—Plans for aerial convey of all ships coming into British ports in war-time are being drawn up by the admiralty committee working with the food defense department.

The first lord of the admiralty hinted at this in a speech at the launching of the aircraft-carrier Ark Royal in Birkenhead. He said the development of carriers would greatly assist the problem of food supplies by giving convoys the protection of aircraft in large numbers. By this means the surrounding air and sea could be searched for raiders.

That was the first indication of the purpose for which the admiralty is building five of these vessels. It is now the fixed policy of the committee of imperial defense that convoys would be instituted at once on the outbreak of war. R. A. F. experts have admitted that aircraft at sea cannot do the work of escorting merchant ships, even in narrow waters. It is regarded as certain that it will be carried out by the navy and the fleet air arm in cooperation.

Radio Station To Be Bought by Wife President's Son

FORT WORTH, Texas, June 12.—(UP)—Mrs. Elliott Roosevelt has signed a contract to buy radio station KFJZ here from Ralph Bishop independent owner.

Jesse Martin, attorney who handled the transaction for both parties, said the price would be withheld pending approval of the transfer by the federal communications commission. Mrs. Roosevelt, formerly Ruth Goggins, is the wife of the president's son.

At Dallas, Elliott Roosevelt said that his wife had purchased the station as "a private investment."

DRIVER IS BLAMED FOR BUS ACCIDENT

SAN DIEGO, Cal., June 12.—(UP)—A. F. Storrs, Los Angeles, today was held criminally responsible for the Greyhound bus crash near here May 31 in which two men were killed and a score injured.

A coroner's jury returned the verdict holding Storrs responsible for the crash less than five minutes after it received the case.

Storrs, driver of the bus, which crashed into the rear of an oil tank truck killing John F. Smith and Henry J. Sanford, navy chief

A WELCOME DISCOVERY

Announcement that science has found a way to control tooth decay will be universally welcomed.

Results of a four-year study by the "Caries Research Group" Northwestern University's dental school reveal that the test has been made successfully on 750 cases.

"Tooth decay can be practically eliminated," the Caries group announces, "through a chemical test coupled with a program of dental care."

The newly found test determines within five hours a person's susceptibility or immunity to tooth decay.

WHY NOT WORK TOGETHER

The American Legion in Santa Ana, with its three affiliate bodies, the Drum Corps Auxiliary and Drill Team, is beginning to wonder if it wouldn't be a good idea if all units co-operated and, instead of holding four money raising events each year, stage just one and apportion the revenue?

Cye Featherly, commander of the Legion, has come around to thinking with the merchants of the city that it is poor policy for each one of the four branches of the Legion to ask the business men to buy tickets, contribute funds and support dances and popularity contests four times yearly.

We agree with the commander that the merchants are willing to aid the Legion in its efforts to pay off the indebtedness on its home on Birch street by supporting them in their fund raising endeavors.

However, it does seem that the various units could get together and hold one big event each year and the receipts be apportioned to the four departments according to their needs.

Of course the Legion Auxiliary poppy day is an established nation-wide event and should be continued.

But with the Legion holding a popularity contest, the Drum Corps giving a talent contest and the Auxiliary or Drill Team something else, the business men are beginning to balk and it is doubtful if enough money is raised by each branch to meet its needs, where one big event might meet the needs of all.

We believe that Cye Featherly's suggestion is well worth careful consideration.

SOMETHING DIFFERENT

Residents of Santa Ana and Orange county are going to see something unique at the first annual Santa Ana Air Show, to be held at Eddie Martin's airport on June 20, under the auspices of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce.

Twenty-three manufacturers of airplanes have notified the committee in charge that they will exhibit and demonstrate their planes.

Already reservations have been made for 135 airplanes and the chamber expects 250 will be here for the show. This in addition to private planes that will come and go the entire day.

Fifteen hundred pilots and guests in their ships will sit down to a free barbecue at noon.

According to Dale Deckert, chairman of the aviation committee of the chamber, there will be more licensed pilots and more planes on the field than ever before assembled outside of private fields.

At the recent air show in Los Angeles planes were exhibited but no demonstrations were given. It will be different here, for every plane that comes here will be flown.

The chamber officials see wonderful possibilities of interesting manufacturers in the practicability of Eddie Martin's port as a manufacturing center. It is the only field in Southern California that is open and clear, not obstructed by houses and high tension wires.

It is the hope of chamber officials to make the Santa Ana air show the outstanding show of its kind in the United States each year.

Members of the National Guard, numbering 160, will police the field during the show. Truly, the show will be something different.

ARE MORALS THE CAUSE?

As we are gradually losing our liberty and becoming subject to the despotism of the crowd, we cannot help but ponder as to the wisdom of Benjamin Franklin at the Constitutional Convention 150 years ago.

He remarked that there were many defects in the Constitution but believed that it was likely to be well administered for a course of years and "can only end in despotism, as other forms have done before it, when the people shall become so corrupted as to need despotic government, being incapable of any other."

When the government comes to such a point that it, as a whole, takes from people who are serving humanity better than the government can serve humanity and gives those individuals nothing in return, it certainly is a form of corruption. Again, when the government permits any group to combine—to restrain production—it is a form of corruption. When the government permits any group, as it does the bankers, to manufacture credit dollars and thus do away with the value back of our medium of exchange, it is a form of corruption.

Of course all corruption is the result of ignorance. As a wise philosopher once said, "only the wise are good." But whether it is ignorance (or parlor pink), or pure mean-

Better Jobs For All

—By R. C. HOILES

We Must Compromise

Walter Lippmann in his address at Drake University, under the head of "The Lunatic Fringe," contends that our difficulty is largely due to the fact that those to the right will not compromise and those to the left will not compromise; that one side must take control by force, as was done in Russia, Italy, Germany and as they are now attempting to do in Spain. He says: "It is not the war and the four empires which it destroyed. The greatest change is in the temper of men when they deal with one another, and the only way I can think of to describe it is to say that, as compared with 1910, men have become increasingly irreconcilable. More and more men divide into groups which totally distrust one another, are unable and unwilling to talk with one another, no longer use the same words to mean the same things, and really believe that unless they conquer their opponents they will be conquered by them."

We believe that is largely true. Our proposal of compromise is, as we have repeatedly said, to have a new form of capitalism, to re-define people's rights in property and to do it without in any way centralizing management or making a bottle-neck control. Our compromise is to say that people can produce and own as much property as they possibly can on a competitive basis and retain their own individual management, so long as they use this wealth to increase wealth and, thus, make wealth easier to get and in so doing, lower the real cost of the comforts and necessities of life to all workers.

The best way to compromise and to have a new capitalist system is to have a graduated tax for the man who personally appropriates too much of this world's wealth for his own entertainment and amusement. This does not mean, of course, that he does not still have complete right to invest this capital in an attempt to produce new wealth.

Our present system is attempting to do exactly the same thing that all honest people want to accomplish—raise the real wages of all workers but instead of doing it, it is lowering them and it will continue to make them lower and lower. We can only live better by producing more and we can only produce more by having the wealth we have well managed and have it increase as rapidly as possible and, thus, make it easily available for the man with a small income.

The real compromise is a graduated tax on personal consumption and removing all taxes on the man who takes risks and produces new wealth because this new wealth reduces the cost of living for all. It is the only compromise of which we can think, that makes it safe for any man to have lots of wealth and retain the best management of the country and is the real interpretation of "We, the people," meaning all the people.

"SLICKER LAW DRAFTING"

Hugh Johnson, in his recent article, comments very clearly on what the effects of the Black-Conerly law to regulate wages, will really mean.

He points out that it really gives five men absolute control of all industry. It, of course, practically means the elimination of our Constitution and our Bill of Rights and establishes complete national planning.

It would seem that our Board of Education and our educational leaders should certainly read this article as they have been taking up the time and energy of our children advocating national planning and the determining of all questions of right and wrong by the voting majority, rather than by a written constitution protecting us against wishes of the crowd.

News dispatches report that the English government has dropped the new defense tax on business. If the English people refuse to pay the tax for the $7,500,000,000 war program, it certainly will mean inflation in England.

With our secret combination with England and France on monetary policy, inflation in England will help drain the resources out of our country. Any entangling alliance invariably leaves the United States holding the bag.

What Other Editors Say:

CASH-AND-CARRY AT HOME

(From the Wall Street Journal)

Through a deputy assistant to Mr. Farley, the Postoffice Department announced that it would refuse to deliver "unusual" packages to steel plants where a strike is in progress. "The department," said Mr. Donaldson, "absolutely will not lend aid or give comfort to either side in labor disputes."

That is, the Government denies the use of the postal laws to workmen within a plant besieged by strike pickets, whom their sympathizers outside would supply with food. Attempting to hold strictly aloof, the Government in fact lends the most practical sort of assistance to the C. I. O. strikers, who of course have no occasion to use the mails themselves in connection with the siege.

In other words, the Postoffice Department's adoption of a policy of strict neutrality, including cash-and-carry-it-yourself, recognizes the status of the Youngstown pickets as that of belligerents, a legal status borrowed for the occasion from the laws of war.

So far as our Government is concerned, then, no distinction can be drawn between a labor war in Ohio or Illinois and a civil war in Spain. In respect to either, our Government's first duty is to avoid its own entanglement.

In case you have forgotten, this is the same Government which enacted a National Labor Relations Act to preserve industrial peace and is in charge of its administration. That Government fosters domestic tranquility by submitting to the war-zone decree of a local strike chairman.

Or does it?

ness, the results to the people as a whole will be the same. Our real wages, our standard of living, must be lower because of this corruption.

Our public educators are contending that all we need is to give them more power and more authority to enlighten. Yet the more we give them, the more confused we become and the more chaos we have. Of course, they contend that they do not have enough power, just as the central government contends all it needs to raise the living standard of all the people is to have more power.

Franklin evidently foresaw what would eventually happen. He said, "If we please the people we cannot later justify our acts." But there was nothing the framers of the Constitution could do to prevent the people from changing it, misinterpreting it and making the majority rule, instead of the universal rule, the guide for the Golden Rule.

According to B. C. Forbes, our airplane lines flew 15,118,023 miles for every passenger fatality during the last half of 1936.

NEW YORK CITY—There is a hot spot developing in the shipping-labor situation on the Atlantic Coast. The longshoremen's and teamsters' unions which control the loading and unloading of ships and the transportation of their cargoes to and from the docks, are A. F. of L. affiliates. There is a developing among the powerful maritime unions—those which have to do with the operation of the ships themselves, a strong attraction toward C. I. O.

Here is a closely related, continuous operation directly controlling the coastal, inter-coastal, interstate and international commerce of the United States. Any such serious civil war as might come here within the ranks of labor itself could paralyze that commerce, and act as effectively against the public interest as a naval blockade in war.

Out in Michigan in a labor dispute, electric power and light for a whole community was cut off. In the San Francisco general strike, street car service was abandoned although there was no labor dispute at all in street railways. Stores were closed. There was a threat to cut off both power and water to the city. In the Pacific Coast maritime strike, interstate and international commerce by water actually was strangled.

There are various estimates of the food supply actually on hand in a great city like New York—perhaps not more than enough to last more than two weeks. Its vast population is fed through a very few water conduits and a small number of bottlenecks of bridges, tunnels and artificial roads—all quite easily cut off or great force is brought to bear. One of the greatest dangers in modern war is the utter dependence of great centers of population on their few vulnerable nerve centers and conduits of supply.

It is easy to understand the reluctance of elected public officials to intervene in strikes. For so many years they intervened so freely on the other side of the argument that labor nearly lost its rights of collective bargaining and representation. The distinct public reaction against that very thing was one of the reasons for the New Deal triumphs. But there must be some limit to the range and trajectory of the brick-bats in these semi-private shindys—some limits to license even in civil war.

It doesn't greatly hurt a public service company to turn off a city's electricity or water—but it strangles the city. It oppresses millions of people who have had no part in the fight except usually a strong sympathy with the labor side at the outset.

Regardless of the reluctance of political liberals, what is the point in these disputes beyond which they have no choice—where the public through government must take control? What should it do when it does step in?

The answers seem clear. Government must intervene where the pressures of the conflict spill over the area of the actual dispute and substantially pinch the innocent bystanders, either by violence to their person or property, or in some necessary public service, such as transportation by land, or water or air and supply of food, water, power or gas.

That is not action against a recalcitrant employer. It is action against an innocent public. Officials who do not defend the public in this case, are derelict in duty through political cowardice. We have seen too many such instances recently.

What does the official do when he does step in? If the law does not say specifically it ought to, in most cases it does say. Where the statute doesn't, a higher law does. "Salus populi suprema lex esto." Which is a spigotty way of saying that nothing excuses a government which fails to protect its people.

Me and ma was eating lunch and I said, Hurry up and finish your tea ma, I'll tell your fortune by your tea leaves.

My, this is a new accomplishment, do you reveal the passed or the future? ma said, and I said, Either one you want it's regardless to me.

Then you can read my future because I know my own passed, ma said.

And she pushed me her empty tea cup and I started to look in it with my head away down as if I thawt I was looking down a well, saying, What's this I see, you're going to entertain a party bald headed man for supper in the near future and his name starts with a P.

How marvellous that sounds suspiciously like your father, and I'm relieved to hear he's going to be entertained, because generally he doesn't give 3 cheers at the site of a veal outfit, ma said, and I said, And what's this, you're going to meet a dark stranger very soon.

Well, how romantic, or is that supposed to be a warning, ma said, and I said, No, ma, I didn't dare to, it was a accident, I was filling my fountain pen and I happened to be leaning over your bed at the same time.

Being the beginning of the sad

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

NO FINALITIES IN GROWTH

There is one strong hope for all healthy, normal children. There is no finality about their growth. There is comfort for the mothers who are frightened when they see their children set upon doing what they believe will ruin their careers.

"John has taken to studying airplanes. Now he is no boy for that sort of thing. He is a student, not a flyer. Every spare minute he puts on flying. Reads, talks, dreams flying. No, he doesn't ask to fly. Just follows it in the papers and movies and all that. What's going to become of his real work if he keeps on like this?"

He won't keep on like that.

"Here is my daughter just about driving me crazy. I expected her to graduate from college, return home for a couple of years, take up some work she liked. She always said she wanted to teach. Now she is bent on joining a stock company and going on the road with a show. She is no actress. What is going to become of her if she does such a thing?"

She probably won't do it, and if she does she will soon drop it. Few there are who survive the road.

"My child has lost all interest in study. Says he doesn't care about an education. He is going to be a traveling poet, reforming the world. He ought to be in prep school this minute, but he won't study, and I have to keep him home. How can we save him?"

He will be saved. He needs a rest, time out for adjustments he has not had time to make. He won't dwell overlong in this state if you give him the time he needs. The growth of children is unaccountable. The mystery of all mysteries. Nobody knows where it tends, nobody is wise enough to lay hands upon it to force it to other ways. It takes sudden spurts in new directions, halts, turns another way, rests, sweeps away in an unforeseen path, and continues until it finds a pleasant way opening before it and follows it more or less consistently. There is no finality in the growth of children.

When children display strange vagaries try not to be afraid. Try to listen and watch in order to interpret the drive that is sending them the strange new way, and, if you can, lend a hand to help. It will not be helpful to scold and weep and prophesy evil. If you feel that way, better be silent. Speak impersonally, and to the point, when you have the chance.

When one young lady announced her intention to go on the road, for which she had neither training or fitness, her mother, after she got her breath again, said, in disinterested fashion, "So? I see by the papers that the great actress, the star of a long line, has just gone into bankruptcy. Hand me that ball of yarn, will you, dear, and take a look at those biscuits in the oven."

She made no sign of disapproval, nor of interest, beyond that. Daughter talked for months about her new ambition, but she forgot it and took a job when a good one offered. Most of these phases of interest wear themselves out if allowed to do so. Long and heated arguments prolong interests beyond their normal lives. Just know that most of them pass as they came. The one that remains is usually the right one for that child.

News Behind The News

By PAUL MALLON

EVADERS' TEXT BOOK

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Don't tell President Roosevelt, but the man who gave helpful hints to the rich on how to evade federal taxes is no less an authority than his own under-secretary of the treasury, Roswell Magill. In fact, Mr. Magill is generally recognized as the leading authority of the day on how not to pay taxes.

He established this reputation in a book published only last January, just before he was appointed to his present position as second in command of the federal treasury. Few rich taxpayers, and no tax attorney, have overlooked it. The title is "Federal Taxes on Estates, Trusts, Gifts," and it could have been entitled: "How not to pay any more taxes than the law requires." Mr. Magill's collaborator was an eminent New York tax attorney, Robert H. Montgomery, C. P. A.

Messrs. Magill and Montgomery ignore the questions of tax morality or tax ethics. These are subjects which have only been raised. Instead, they deal with such practical propositions as how to get out of paying the highest rates legitimately, and they make a thorough job of it.

The tone of their tome may be judged by some of the subtitles: "Minimizing family income taxes"; "Minimizing estate and gift taxes"; "Creation of trusts"; "Incorporation," etc. For instance, they tell how owners of estates above half a million dollars can evade death taxes by "divesting" themselves of 80 to 90 per cent of their property. But they counsel owners of estates of less than $100,000 to "divest" of no more than 55 per cent.

Unfortunately, there is not much in the book to help the smaller income taxpayers. The authors point out that man and wife may divide their income-producing property 50-50 and thus take advantage of lower rates. They also tell how to create trusts and "spread income tax liability among several taxpayers." None of this is much good to a salaried man.

IGNORANCE

In fact, no one seems to be interested in helping the great bulk of income taxpayers. Every tax authority knows this class generally pays more than is due just because of ignorance of the law. They cannot afford to hire attorneys; the income tax blanks are not much help; and the revenue agents are rough about allowing deductions, such as the five and six cents per gallon taxes paid on gasoline, unless the taxpayer has documentary proof of how many gallons he bought. Likewise, it seems to be virtually impossible for the average taxpayer to deduct his six cents a package on cigarettes or on the cosmetics his wife buys.

Reports are current that Mr. Magill is now working on a book telling the low income group how it can take advantage of these and other legitimate deductions. He may use as a text the observation made by a prominent Democratic congressman (Somers of Brooklyn) the other day, as follows:

"If ignorance of the law is no excuse, can knowledge of the law be penalized?"

ENNUI

Senators seem to be digging eagerly at their work in order to get away from Washington as soon as possible. However, the senate record on legislation does not show anything which might be called a rapid stride in that direction. It rather suggests that the upper house may be on a silent sit-down strike.

The other day, when the senate was in recess, there was then pending the relief bill, PWA extension, CCC extension, the interior, and war department appropriation bills, and numerous other bills had not passed the conference stage.

INFLUENCE

Postmaster General Farley has been writing letters to congressmen against those pending bills for federal regulation of the commercial aviation industry. He does not want the air mail put under the interstate commerce commission.

However, Mr. Farley does not seem to have as much influence now as when he took over the air mail some years ago. Congressmen have gone to F. D. R. asking him to settle the question.

NAME-TWINS

In this spot yesterday, the ambassador to Switzerland, Hugh Wilson, was erroneously called Hugh Gibson, who is the ambassador to Brazil. The confusion of their names in state department parleys is so common they have come to be known unofficially as the name-twins. However, if the appointment to the assistant secretaryship is made, there will be no confusion, Wilson, not Gibson, is the man being discussed.

LOADING UP

Mr. R. seems to remind old congressmen of T. R. many times these days. Latest example: He has been sending up numerous messages, letters, etc. T. R. did that in his second term, and finally the frequency of communications from the White House caused laughter in the cloak rooms. It cannot be said that Mr. R.'s messages are laughed at, but they have created considerable dismay, coming at the beginning of summer.
